McCarthy's Forces Plan Floor Fights

CHICAGO (AP)—Losers in four preliminary challenges, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's supporters armed today for a three-pronged convention floor attack on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's Democratic presidential nomination strength.

Stephen A. Mitchell, a former national chairman and McCarthy's convention manager, said the smoking issues of a Vietnam war plank, delegate seating and unit-rule voting will be taken to the convention itself in an effort to win support for the Minnesota senator in his uphill battle against the vice president.

In Philadelphia, McCarthy forecast an active floor fight over a Vietnam plank he obviously expected the Platform Committee, meeting in Washington, to fashion on a harder line than he has taken.

"As of now," McCarthy said, "we expect to do better on the floor than in the Platform Committee."

Just how this floor fight might go, however, seemed likely to be influenced by the action of Russia and four other Communist bloc countries in sending troops into Czechoslovakia.

This move against a country trying to loosen Moscow's grip on its affairs seemed likely to some political leaders to increase East-West tensions to the detriment of efforts to negotiate some kind of peace in Vietnam.

Whether this would be reflected in a tougher platform plank than McCarthy wants remained to be seen.

Humphrey, who sat in on a security council meeting called by President Johnson Tuesday night, was generally expected to reflect administration views on this new international crisis.

Without reference to these developments, Mitchell expressed confidence in an interview that coordinated attacks on Vietnam policies, delegate seating and unit rule voting would generate a surge of support toward McCarthy, as the original challenger of Johnson's policies, and away from Humphrey, as a defender of them.

Dad Drowns; Sons Missing

ONEKAMA (AP)—The body of a 38-year-old Hazel Park man was found floating in Lake Michigan Tuesday, but his two teen-age sons remained missing following a fishing trip.

Coast Guard officials said they fund the body of Jack L. Mariucci about 4 p.m. floating off Portage Point Inlet near Onekama in Manistee County. They said he was attached to a boat cushion. A shore resident had notified the Coast Guard he had seen the cushion shortly after noon.

Mariucci reportedly went fishing with his two sons, Donald, 18, and Lee, 16, Monday while his wife remained behind. Their small boat was found in the same general area as the body, authorities said.

Giacalone Is Found Guilty

GROOSE POINTE (AP)—Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone, reputed Detroit area Mafia kingpin, was found guilty Tuesday of violating Michigan's gun registration laws.

Grosse Pointe Municipal Judge Douglas Patterson put Giacalone on probation for a year and fined him $100. Giacalone thus escaped a 90-day jail term because, according to Patterson, "he's a family man. He knows better. Putting him in jail on this charge isn't going to do anybody any good," he added.

Royal Oak Man Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Tuesday that Spec. 4 Larry D. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry A. Nelson of Royal Oak, was one of 26 American servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam war.

Ike's Doctors Are Encouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that they were encouraged by a certain aspect of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition but they "still view the general's condition as critical."

In a medical bulletin released at 11:05 a.m. EDT, doctors of Walter Reed Army Hospital said:

"Gen. Eisenhower spent a very comfortable night and his spirits remain excellent. The trend towards a decrease of the frequency of cardiac irregularities and episodes of rapid heart action indicated in last night's bulletin has continued throughout the night. While the physicians believe this is an encouraging sign, they still view the general's condition as critical."

The matter of cardiac irregularities and episodes of rapid heart action have all along been the major cause of concern in connection with Eisenhower's latest heart attack, his seventh since 1955.

There was a report, meanwhile, by the Washington Post that a new experimental drug was being used on the five-star Army general and that it could be contributing to a decrease over the past few days in the periods of irregular heart beat.

The Post said the drug was bretylium tosylate. The paper said it had produced dramatic results at other medical centers.

There was no comment from the hospital on the report.

Humphrey Shy By 450 Margin

CHICAGO (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's chances for a first ballot nomination at next week's Democratic National Convention could hinge on a dozen large delegations where nearly 750 votes are either held by favorite sons or uncommitted. The Associated Press survey showed today.

The latest AP tally of solid first ballot strength, based on primary results, public pledges and AP delegate surveys, gives Humphrey 852½ votes—still more than 450 away from the 1,312 needed for the nomination. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has 453½ and Sen. George S. McGovern has 32½. Only solid support is counted, not those leaning to a candidate.

But most of those who lead the major uncommitted or favorite son blocs are considered favorable to Humphrey.

This includes seven favorite sons: Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, with 104 votes; Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana, 36; Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, 51; Gov. Dan K. Moore of North Carolina, 59; Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina, 28; Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., of Virginia, 54; and Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, 57.

Also considered favorable to the vice president are the dominant figures in three other important states: Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley in Illinois, where 92 votes are uncommitted; Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, where 51 votes are uncommitted; and National Chairman John M. Bailey in Connecticut, where 35 votes are uncommitted.

The other two big blocs of uncommitted delegates are in the California delegation led by Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, where 142 are uncommitted, and in New York, where 66½ are uncommitted. Both groups supported Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated.

Hanoi Gunners Shoot Down 9 U.S. Choppers

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops trying to fight out of an allied cordon shot down nine American helicopters below the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen reported today.

Enemy ground gunners opened up on reconnaissance helicopters, then dueled with allied helicopter gunships called in by the scouting choppers. All of the downed craft were reported recovered, but there was no word on the fate of their crews.

The engagement Tuesday came as troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were closing a cordon around an estimated 100 North Vietnamese troops six miles northeast of the provincial capital of Quang Tri City.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from Da Nang that U.S. troops succeeded in closing the cordon about midnight and sporadic firing continued through today.

Initial reports said 13 North Vietnamese troops and three U.S. cavalrymen were killed, while 15 Americans were wounded.

In other fighting along the DMZ, U.S. Marines reported killing 20 enemy soldiers northeast of Con Thien. One American was killed and seven wounded.

Far south in the Mekong Delta, nine more U.S. helicopters were damaged on the ground during a wave of 15 mortar and light ground attacks against allied airfields and provincial and district capitals.

Until today only the delta had been spared from the new intensified fighting that began with enemy attacks Sunday, shattering a two-month lull in the ground war.

Munising Paper Mill On Strike

MUNISING (AP) — Some 450 members of two unions today struck the Kimberly-Clark Corp. paper plant in Munising in Upper Michigan.

Union officials said the walkout was part of a strike set for today against Kimberly-Clark's five paper plants in four states. The other plants are located at Memphis, Tenn.; Lee, Mass., and Neenah, Wis., where there are two facilities.

Picket lines were set up at Munising plant by Local 87 of the United Paper Mill and Paper Workers and Local 96 of the United Pulp and Sulphite Workers.

The strike was called to support new contract demands in health, welfare and pension benefits.

It was the first strike against the plant since the firm purchased the paper mill in 1952.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has announced the appointment of Walter Patenge, of East Lansing, to the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority. Patenge, 69, succeeds Paul D. Bagwell, of Grosse Pointe Park, who resigned. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Convicts Threaten Nine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State officials and rebelling Ohio Penitentiary convicts carried on a war of nerves today in bargaining the freedom of nine guards against prisoner demands.

The guards, taken hostage in an uprising involving about 300 prisoners at the penitentiary Tuesday, remained unharmed but under a threat of death. The convicts said they would burn the hostages alive, using gasoline and lighter fluid, if officials attempted to use force to free them or do not meet all the prisoners' demands.

"We're at an impasse, a stalemate," Warden Marion J. Koloski said. "The reason we spend so much time talking to the prisoners is because human lives are at stake."

The guards were held in cells vacated by prisoners.

While the tense situation dragged on, a riot flared up and was swiftly put down at the state's Lebanon Correctional Institution 75 miles southwest of Columbus. Five Lebanon prisoners were shot and some 20 other persons injured after 200 inmates refused to return to cells at the end of a recreation period. Some 600 other prisoners did return to cells.

Three persons were hospitalized with gunshot wounds. The rampage lasted two hours before prisoners were forced into cells and the Lebanon medium security prison was declared secure.

Inmates of the 132-year-old prison gained some demands—amnesty for prisoners involved in the disturbance and an investigation of alleged guard brutality—but refused to release the hostages.

Nixon Relies On Aid Of Rocky, Liberals

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is counting on the campaigning help of his defeated rival for the GOP presidential nomination, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The GOP standardbearer headed into a meeting today with Rockefeller confident the New York governor will become a full-fledged backer of the Republican ticket.

If he does, it would help Nixon win the support of the more liberal Republicans who backed Rockefeller for the presidential nomination.

Speaking from an auto roof in front of his New York apartment Tuesday night, Nixon told boosters welcoming him home from his first national trip: "Tomorrow, I'm going to meet with the leaders of the party in New York and we expect to get their help."

In addition to conferring with Rockefeller in the apartment building where they both live, Nixon also sought to recruit Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R—N.Y.

And, he scheduled a session with Republican Sens. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts and Howard Baker of Tennessee.

Nixon told supporters that the week and a half of campaigning and private conferences since his nomination has assured him the campaigning help of Govs. Ronald Reagan of California; James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania.

In addition, he said, Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and Charles L. Percy of Illinois are putting their weight behind the Nixon campaign.

"In the past four days, we have made more progress than has ever been made in a political campaign in getting the leaders of the Republican party behind the ticket so we can go after the Democratic vote and the independent vote," Nixon said.

The homecoming wound up a day that began with breakfast at the Ohio State Fair with Rhodes and included a visit to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, where former President Dwight D. Eisenhower lay gravely ill.

Red Bloc Move Blow To Hope Of Freedom

LONDON (AP) — The swift Soviet bloc thrust into Czechoslovakia shattered hopes of West European leaders, that the Czechoslovaks might be able to work out some freer mode of life.

Some analysts of Soviet affairs had cautioned that Soviet action was inevitable unless there was a clampdown on the new liberalism. But most expected the Soviet Union to combine external pressures and internal subversion rather than use military force.

Soviet Ambassador Mihail N. Smirnovsky brought the first word to the British government in a postmidnight call at the home of Lord Chalfont, minister of state in the Foreign Office. He delivered an oral message for Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who immediately returned to London from a vacation in the Scilly Isles. Wilson called key ministers for a morning meeting and stayed in contact with Washington and other NATO allies.

Phillip Kaiser, minister at the U.S. Embassy, conferred with Chalfont and other British officials at 4 a.m.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart also hurried back from a holiday trip. At Downing Street he told newsmen, "It is very serious news indeed, coming particularly at the time when opportunities for better relations between East and West existed, if there had been the will to make use of them."

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and his Cabinet conferred after a night of studying news dispatches and diplomatic reports, then issued a statement condemning the invasion as "a clear violation of Czechoslovak sovereignty and interference in its internal affairs."

At his summer residence in Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Pope Paul VI delivered a prepared address for his last general audience before he was to leave for Colombia. Then he added that he hopes "the dignity of a people jealous of its destiny will not be offended" by the Soviet bloc invasion. He said he hopes "wisdom will prevail over any problem."

LBJ Denounces Czech Invasion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, denouncing the invasion of Czechoslovakia as tragic and contrived, appealed today to the Soviet Union and other intervening nations to withdraw their troops.

"It is never too late for reason to prevail," Johnson said in a statement he read before newsreel cameras and radio-television microphones.

The chief executive termed the invasion a "flat violation" of the United Nations charter and said the United States was "consulting urgently" with other nations in an effort to "insist upon the charter rights of Czechoslovakia and its people."

He had met with key advisers into the early morning hours after being informed by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin that Soviet troops were moving into Czechoslovakia.

Johnson began his statement: "The tragic news from Czechoslovakia shocks the conscience of the world. The Soviet Union and its allies have invaded a defenseless country to stamp a resurgence of ordinary human freedom. It is a sad commentary on the Communist mind that a sign of liberty in Czechoslovakia is deemed a fundamental threat to the security of the Soviet system."

Report Prague Coup Deposes Dubcek Clique

PRAGUE (AP) — The Soviet Union, imposing its will on Czechoslovakia, sent tanks and troops into Prague today in an occupation designed to thwart the small nation's moves toward a liberalized brand of communism.

The lightning invasion began Tuesday night, and Moscow announced it involved forces of East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary as well as those of the Soviet Union. Moscow said it was coming in to "render necessary help to the fraternal Czechoslovak people." Moscow said it acted on an invitation from "party and government leaders" in Prague to put down a threat of counterrevolution imperiling the structure of communism.

No such invitation was announced here.

Shooting Heard

Some shooting was heard in Prague today, but a statement over Prague radio said Czechoslovak forces, tiny in comparison with the might of the Soviet Union and the combined arms of four other Communist states, had received no orders to defend the country. Prague radio appealed for restraint.

Available information indicated the occupation had come off with little resistance although the CTK news agency said several persons were killed and 25 wounded as occupying troops entered the building housing Prague radio.

Within hours Soviet paratroopers had surrounded Communist party headquarters in Prague, virtually imprisoning nine of the 11 presidium members and threatening to bring the eight-month-old liberal Czechoslovak regime under the Soviet thumb.

Don't Resist: Leaders

Czechoslovak leaders appealed to the nation to remain calm and not to resist the advancing troops. But fighting was reported in several places in Prague and automatic weapons fire was heard for several minutes outside the U.S. Embassy. That shooting gradually subsided. No one in the embassy could see who was firing.

Prague Radio reported that "citizens are trying to stop with their bodies the advancing Soviet tanks which are heading for the Czechoslovak radio building."

Other Czechoslovaks reported for work in some offices this morning. Many had tears in their eyes.

Coup Reported

Government leaders throughout the world called emergency meetings to assess communism's most explosive crisis since Soviet tanks crushed the Hungarian uprising 12 years ago.

The Soviet tanks and troops presumably were airlifted into Prague airport for the attempt to save that country from the enemies of communism.

Unconfirmed reports in Moscow said a coup in Prague Tuesday deposed Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek and replaced his liberal regime with leaders who invited the Soviet troops.

But Dubeck and his colleagues were reported meeting in the party's Central Committee headquarters, the building surrounded by Soviet paratroopers and tanks marked with white crosses.

Czechoslovak President Ludvik Svoboda was reported in his office at Prague Castle, which was surrounded by other troops.

In Bratislava, troops of five Warsaw Pact countries were said to be holding key positions on main roads, the airport, the Danube Bridge and the radio station.

A crowd of many thousands gathered in the main square in the center of the city to demonstrate peacefully and express their support for Dubcek and the party leadership.

Radio stations controlled by the liberal government were forced off the air. Only Vltava, described by Prague Radio as an illegal station of the occupying armies, remained on the air. It broadcast appeals to the Czechoslovak military to support the invaders.

There were unconfirmed reports that two Czechs were killed in a clash in Prague. A car was seen squashed by a

New Superintendent:

Republic Man Appointed By Intermediate Board

Walter J. McClintock, superintendent of schools at Republic for the past 12 years, Tuesday night, was named superintendent of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate school district by the Intermediate Board of Education.

McClintock will take over immediately from R. L. Godmer, who resigned last month to accept a position with the Administrative Division of the Michigan Department of Education, Lansing.

Godmer will assume duties in Lansing later this month. He will remain in the intermediate office for several days to assist McClintock during the transition period.

Taught At Pickford

A native of Marquette, McClintock graduated from John D. Pierce High School there in 1935 and from Northern Michigan University in 1939, receiving his master's degree from the University of Michigan the following year.

He taught for a year in Pickford, then worked in the Ford Motor Co.'s apprentice training program at its Rouge plant in Detroit in 1941-42 prior to Navy service in World War II. He served on a destroyer for two years and was in the submarine service one year.

McClintock rejoined Ford's apprentice program in January 1946, supervising control of quality construction and also spent a year studying mathematics at the University of Detroit.

Returning to the Upper Peninsula, he served as superintendent of Mathias Township School District in Trenary from 1951 to 1956, when he accepted the office of superintendent at Republic. During his administration, he worked with school board members in effecting construction of a new school and annexation of the Michigamme School District.

Walter J. McClintock

He has been very active in community and area affairs since going to Republic in 1956. He is a 12-year member of the Republic Lions Club, which he served as president for two years, and joined the Republic Veterans of Foreign Wars Post eight years ago.

To Live In Gladstone

McClintock has been a member of the Marquette-Alger Intermediate School District Board of Education for eight years, serving as its president last year, and also is a member of the Michigan and American Associations of School Administrators.

Mis wife, the former Marie Richards of Marquette, has taught elementary grades the last five years. A graduate of Marquette Bishop Baraga Central High School and Northern Michigan University, she also received her master's degree from the University of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. McClintock are the parents of four children, William, 23, an accountant in Boston, Mass.; Mrs. David (Ann) Clark, a junior at NMU; Rose, 18, a student at the University of California, and Robert, 11, at home.

The family will reside at 1111 Michigan Ave., Gladstone.

Educators Must Act On Smoking Habits Of Kids

Educators cannot long hide behind the barn when it comes to considering smoking and the schools, even if tempted to do so.

Across the nation, schools are experiencing increased pressures on issues related to smoking, says the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation (AAHPER), a department of the National Education Association.

Disturbing Facts

Teachers and administrators are confronted with disquieting evidence. For example—

- More than one million of today's school-age children will die of lung cancer prematurely if present smoking trends continue, according to the American Public Health Association.
- The average young man who is a heavy cigarette smoker can expect to have his life shortened by eight years if he continues the habit, the U. S. Public Health Service reports.

Starts Young

Educators are having to face up to the fact that most men and women who smoke regularly started during their school years. "All too often," it began in the elementary grades, AAHPER says. An estimated 10 to 15 per cent of all 13-year-olds smoke, and for each successive age level there is a percentage increase up to age 18, where 50 per cent smoke regularly.

Although schools are not commonly accused of having caused this problem, they are increasingly looked to for a significant part of the answer. "There is little doubt," says AAHPER, "that the schools will have to assume a major part of the responsibility for educating present and future generations about the effects of smoking on physical health."

Teachers As Examples

The example set by teachers and administrators who light up is a prime area for agonizing reappraisal. Teachers often serve as parent substitutes. Especially in the eyes of very young students teachers may, like parents, be important influences in regard to smoking. Students quickly recognize that education in the "Do as I say, not as I do" tradition has a hollow ring.

"Our aim," says Vincent Granell, director of the Leadership Development Project on Smoking and Health, "is to discourage youngsters from ever starting the habit. Because smoking has been so generally acceptable, it has become a badge of adulthood, and youngsters tend to smoke at an increasingly early age. This is a problem that must be considered by the whole adult population."

Timing Vital

The kind of instructional program that the school should conduct concerning smoking is a second important area for consideration. Timing of this instruction is vital, too. Says AAHPER in a position statement: "If present and future generations are to be educated concerning the effects of smoking on health, an effective educational program must anticipate the problem and thus begin in the elementary school."

Thirdly, schools must give continued, and perhaps increased, attention to the value of sports participation in motivating nonsmoking.

And fourthly, schools must reconsider whether to provide smoking facilities, as some now do. Should the "No Smoking" sign be hung out? Should the school have responsibility for students who smoke while traveling to and from school?

Many questions such as these will be considered this fall in five district work conferences by the Project on Smoking and Health Education, a nationwide program to aid school health personnel in improving the effectiveness of health education in schools. The Project is under the auspices of AAHPER, in cooperation with the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health through a U. S. Public Health Service contract.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt. (AP) — Dianne Johnson, 17, pleaded no contest Tuesday to a charge of painting the bridge over 20 Mile stream in pink to which was added red and blue hearts.

Her attorney told Judge Palmer Ainsworth that the girl had told her parents that she thought the bridge's dark green color was horrible. She was fined $25 and court costs.

EDA Districts Plan Conference

LANSING—Commission and staff members of five economic development districts organized recently in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and in the Upper Peninsuia during the last year will meet Friday, Aug. 23 at the Otsego Ski Club in Gaylord, B. M. Conboy, director of the Office of Economic Expansion, Michigan Department of Commerce, said today.

Purpose of the meeting, Conboy said, is to give the commissions which direct the districts and their full-time staffs an opportunity to review their organizational progress, programs, mutual problems, to coordinate their activities and to exchange ideas which should help each other in their efforts to promote economic growth in the 47 counties making up the districts.

Meeting with the county representatives will be: Thomas S. Francis, federal co-chairman of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission (Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin) which was organized under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965, and Jack White, chief of EDA's District Organization Division, both of Washington; Hanford Olson, Duluth regional office of EDA; Herbert C. DeJonge, director of the Michigan Department of Commerce, and Conboy.

EDA has authorized funds to create six economic development districts in Michigan, three in the Upper Peninsula and three in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula. The eastern and western districts in the Upper Peninsula have been funded with 75 per cent federal financing.

A central Upper Peninsula district is still to be formed.

The Lower Peninsula districts have been organized by the Office of Economic Expansion, while those in the Upper Peninsula are being developed by the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress (UPCAP).

The districts will devote most of their time in the immediate future toward preparation of an overall economic development plan which will serve as a blueprint for projects and programs designed to stimulate economic growth of the various districts, counties and towns and cities within them.

The districts were organized to assist counties in Michigan and other states where unemployment and underemployment has been above state and national averages, for the purpose of stimulating economic development through more industry, tourism and business, which will bring more and better-paying jobs and a higher standard of living in the general area made up by the six districts.

The Economic Development Districts are organized under authority of the federal Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 and is administered by the Economic Development Administration, U. S. Department of Commerce and the Office of Economic Expansion of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Three Arrested For Auto Theft

A 17-year-old boy is in the Delta County jail today and two other 15-year-old boys have been cited to Probate Court after their arrest by Gladstone and State Police on charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

State Police said Perry Pardee Jr., Box 96, Gladstone, waived examination Monday when arraigned before Justice Ross Davis and was bound over to Circuit Court. He is being held in lieu of $500 bond.

Officers said the youths were arrested after investigation of thefts of two automobiles last week, one from Rock and the second from Gladstone. A 1963-model car stolen in Gladstone from Jack Unmuth, Kipling, was found demolished after an accident, troopers said.

Completion Of Medicenter Set For Next Spring

Construction of a Medicenter near Doctors Park to serve as an intensive care facility for the Escanaba area is scheduled to be completed early next spring, the Rotary Club was told at its Tuesday meeting at the House of Ludington.

Dr. Roger Beauchamp, Escanaba dentist, speaking for Willow Creek Developers, the Medicenter sponsors, reported that financing arrangements for the project have been successfully completed and that construction is scheduled to start soon. The local sale of debentures in the amount of $80,000 has been fully subscribed, and other financing includes a loan of $300,000, he said.

The facility, which will provide nursing care for persons no longer requiring hospitalization, will help free hospital beds for those needing hospital services. It will not be a "nursing home" or home for those not requiring intensive care.

Dr. Beauchamp said the cost to the patients will be about two-thirds that of a hospital and that most insurance will cover care in a medicenter. There will be 60 beds in the medicenter and plans are to increase this to 120 in the future to meet the need that is indicated in surveys of the area. Persons 15 and over will be received as patients.

Medicenters of America, with which the facility here is affiliated, is a subsidiary of Holiday Inns, Inc., and there are presently 20 such centers in operation and 20 more in the planning stage in as many communities across the country. The construction of a medicenter in Gladstone is being considered for the future, Dr. Beauchamp said.

Charles Follo introduced the speaker and the Rotary Club meeting was conducted by Dr. Richard Rinehart, president.

Robert Mosenfelder, Rotary international service chairman, introduced Julio Kohlberg of Tariza, Bolivia, as guest of the club. The young man will be in Escanaba until about Sept. 8, when he will enter Northern Michigan University at Marquette to work toward his masters degree.

Dr. Rinehart announced that the Rotary Club's fund for crippled children had been enriched by a gift of $50 from the Ladies' Auxiliary, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and expressed appreciation for the contribution.

Pike Fishing Is Very Good

Northern pike fishing is very good in both Bays de Noc with the area above Gladstone and the Escanaba Yacht Harbor receiving the most attention, the Department of Conservation reports.

A few walleye are being taken on the Escanaba River below No. 1 Dam and a gradual lowering and warming of streams has lessened trout success on most streams.

In Marquette County trout lakes appear to be having a light upswing in success with Johnson Lake in the Gwinn area and Perch Lake in the Republic area again producing. Bass are fair on Big and Little Shag Lakes and the Michigamme River. Walleye fishing is good on the Michigamme River using minnows or night crawlers in the evening.

Au Train Basin and Au Train Lake in Alger County are getting the most attention with good success for panfish and northern. Trout activity has been slow with grasshoppers and flies producing best.

Luft Takes Over At Hermansville

HERMANSVILLE—Hermansville will open the school year with a new superintendent.

He is Clifford Luft, who replaces Donald Hill, now at Norway.

Luft announces that Tuesday, Sept. 3, is the opening day of school with students to report at 1 p. m.

On the first day, buses will pick up students in time for 1 p. m. arrival. Beginning Wednesday, Sept. 4, buses will pick up students in the morning at the same time as last year.

Hot lunch will also begin Wednesday with the following prices: Grades K-2 at $3 per 20-meal ticket, 20 cents single meal; 3-12 at $4 per 20-meal ticket, 25 cents single meal, adults $5 per 20-meal ticket, 30 cents single meal. Milk prices are three cents per carton for chocolate milk and two cents per carton for white milk.

Luft said all new students should register at the superintendent's office from Aug. 26 to Aug. 30.

New teachers include Gerald Sundquist, who will teach senior high math and physics and also coach baseball and junior high basketball, and David Kimar, who will teach high school English and history. Sundquist comes to Hermansville from Stephenson. Kimar, a native of Au Train, is a June graduate of Northern Michigan University.

The following teachers return: Dwight Castelaz, principal and social studies; Ward Trevillian, science; Frank Gordon, shop-conservation; Sandra Moraska, commercial; Mrs. Anne Louise Lungerhausen, English; Lloyd Wilson, grade six; Mrs. Mildred Marcoe, grade five; John Johnson, grade four; Mrs. Irma Buchcuski, grade three; Joan Arnold, grade two; Mrs. Barbara Bedard, grade one, and Mrs. Grace Burns, kindergarten. Luft will handle the driver education program.

The non-instructional staff includes Mrs. Margaret Pipkorn, secretary to superintendent; Eugene Arduin, custodian; Norbert Schultz, Ernest Schultz and Walter Bellmore, bus drivers; Mrs. Gertrude Swanson and Mrs. Iona Kluba, cooks, and Mrs. Francis Lombard, librarian.

Stephenson Area Opens Aug. 28

STEPHENSON—The Stephenson Area schools will open Wednesday, Aug. 28, according to Supt. Joseph B. Gucky.

Professional staff members will report to buildings at 8:15 a. m. with students scheduled to report at 1 p. m.

All students who live in the area have been registered, but families new to the area should register children prior to opening day. Secondary students may be registered at the principal's office or by calling 753-2222. Elementary students can be registered at the superintendent's office, 753-2221.

Lunch Rates Set

School lunch will be served in all buildings beginning Thursday, Aug. 29. Due to an increase in milk costs and a decrease in the federal subsidy, lunch prices have been increased to the following rates:

Elementary students: single meal with milk, 30 cents; weekly meal ticket, $1.20, and milk (5 carton), 20 cents; Secondary students: Single meal with milk, 35 cents; weekly ticket, $1.35, and milk (five cartons), 20 cents; Adults: Single meal, 55 cents; weekly ticket, $2.50, and milk, 7 cents per carton.

Gucky said all meal tickets will be sold on a cash basis and no charge will be honored. Families desiring special lunch payment arrangements should apply at the superintendent's office.

Bus routes will remain basically the same with pick ups the first day about 3½ hours later than the regular schedule.

Book fees are as follows: Grades 1, 2, 3—$1.50; Grades 4, 5, 6—$2; Grades 7 to 12—$2.50. An activity fee of $1 will be charged of secondary students and a $1 towel fee for physical education will be charged of students in grades 7 to 10.

New Staff Listed

Gucky reported that enrollment is expected to be about the same as last year (1,400 to 1,500 students) with a slight increase anticipated in the upper four grades.

New staff members include: Mrs. Mamie Feher, Stephenson kindergarten; Ronald Nelson, Stephenson third grade; Mrs. Mary Tassava, Stephenson fourth grade; James Wenger, Daggett grade four; Mrs. Sally Suhovsky, Daggett kindergarten; John Anderson, industrial arts; Donald Byczek, English 10, American literature; Mrs. Diana Emery, Spanish, English 9; Mrs. Kathryn Fleetwood, vocal music; Raymond Furmanski, instrumental music; William Grandstrom, art; Robert Kuntze, physical education, conservation; Carol Miksa, physical education; Lloyd Pesola, physics, mathematics; Clark Suchovsky, physical education, science; James Tassava, English, history; Lawrence Tinti, chemistry, physical science.

Gucky said that several important additions have been made to the curriculum. Gary Arthur has been assigned as full-time librarian and art, vocal music, health education and an increased physical education program will be offered. The special education program will be expanded.

The Big Story In Fabrics:

New School Fashions Have Flair

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK— (NEA) — There's gaiety and variety in school fashions this fall.

School girls are more fashion-conscious than they once were and much of the credit for this change goes to young mothers who are aware of fashion news—who have been wearing short hemlines and belted waists themselves.

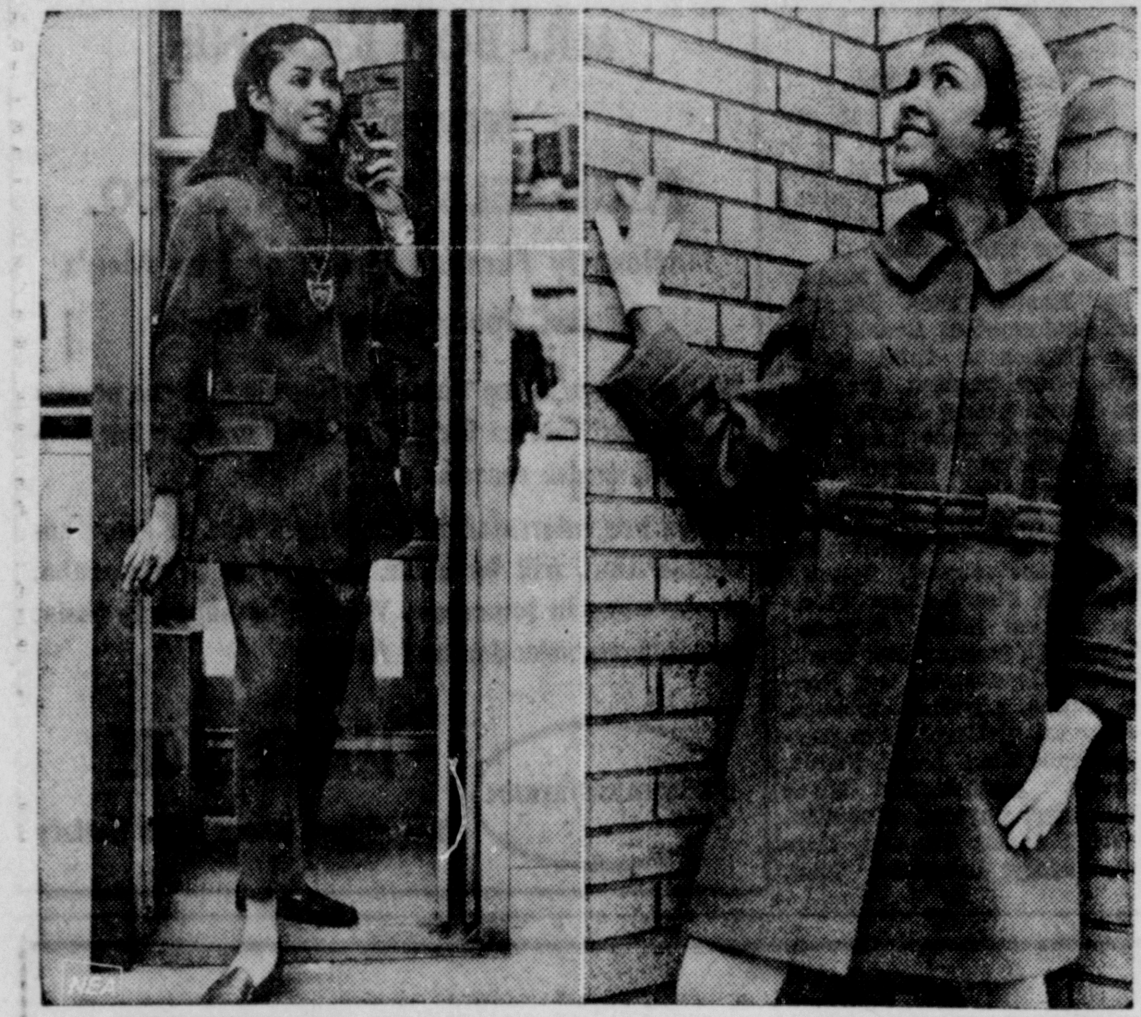
There are coats for every occasion, dress-up coats for weekend and party wear as well as classic and contemporary styles for sports and everyday sojourns to school. Individuality and variety of shape with more fit and flare and interesting detail has been inspired and encouraged by the National Board of the Coat and Suit Industry. There are side - button closings in addition to single-and double-breasted ones. Belts accent the waistline and half belts hold back fullness, inverted pleats or panels.

Leather trimmings, metal buttons, wider lapels and fur or fur fabric collars are in the picture. And pile or quilted nylon linings give both smartness and warmth.

The big fashion story is fabric which determines the style. New fabrics come in lush depths of texture and color. There are handsome tweeds, gabardines, fleeces, diagonal-and ottoman-ribbed monotones, Shetlands, fur-like fabrics, plaids and tar-tans. Melton, corduroy, heavy duck and leatherlike fabric adapt to the many sport and casual styles.

Colors are rich—brown tones, grays, dark greens and navy are most popular with red, burgandy, electric blue and camel running a close race.

Individuality and diversity are typical of the styles for 1968 and there are designs, fabrics and colors to suit the taste of every school and college girl.



NO FASHION IS NEWER or more wanted by college girls than the Nehru jacket. The example (left), complete with silver chain, comes in three pieces — jacket, skirt and pants. Smart shetland wool coat (right) is neatly tailored with concealed side closing, wide self-belt and Peter Pan collar. These designs were chosen by the National Board of the Coat and Suit Industry for fall promotion.

Contract OK'd At Flat Rock

The Flat Rock Board of Education has ratified a new master contract for the 1968-69 school year with its teaching staff calling for a base salary of $6,000 for beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees.

Top scale is $9,180 in 11 steps.

The salary schedule for teachers with 20 hours college credit over a bachelor's degree calls for a base of $6,150 with a maximum of $9,409.50, while the master's degree base is $6,500 with a top of $9,945.

Teacher representatives in negotiations with the Board of Education and Supt. Leo Brunelle were Mrs. Kathleen Boyle and Thomas Vietzke.

Two new teachers also have been hired by the district. Margaret Severensen will teach first grade and Dennis Harrison will teach math in the middle school. Both have had two years of teaching experience.

The Teamster's representative presented an agreement for Flat Rock bus drivers. The contract was accepted by the board and it reflected a five per cent increase for drivers and three per cent additional for the maintenance man.

Identical milk bids were received from Bancroft Dairy and Escanaba Dairy. Bancroft was awarded the first semester contract.

Damaging Storm Hits At Pellston

PELLSTON (AP) — Several areas in northern Lower Michigan reported minor to extensive damage Tuesday from a severe thunderstorm that lashed the area Monday night. A funnel cloud, although not confirmed, was reported near Pellston causing damage to trees. Homes in the area reported flooded basements following heavy rains.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department said its radio tower was struck by lightning. Ironton and Charlevoix reported extensive damage in some areas as a result of lightning-caused fires.

Defects Research

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A grant of $91,373 has been awarded to the University of Michigan's school of public health by the National Foundation—March of Dimes for research in birth defects.

"CORKIE" SAVED OUR LIVES, said Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pscodna of Garden when their dog awakened them after their house was struck by lightning Monday night. These photos by Mrs. Eleanore LaButte, Daily Press representative at Garden, vividly tell the story. The Pscodna farm home was destroyed in the fire set by the lightning bolt, and "Corkie" (who was outside at the time) opened the door — a trick he had performed many times — and awakened the sleeping couple with his barking. Mr. and Mrs. Pscodna escaped through the bedroom window. None of the other buildings on the Pscodna dairy farm were damaged. (Photos by Mrs. Eleanore LaButte)

Low Kill Creates Black Bear Herd

Complaints on bears received in the Upper Peninsula in the past three months number 338 and have resulted in the handling of 237 different bears, by conservation officers, game biologists, property owners and police. Several hundred additional bear complaints have been received that were duplications of those recorded.

One hundred and one bears, ranging in size from cubs to one 380 pounder, were live trapped. Forty-six others were anesthetized with a tranquilizer gun, 76 were shot and killed by property owners and police, seven were killed by conservation officers and seven were killed by motorists along Upper Peninsula highways.

All live trapped bears are moved about 50 miles from where they were trapped and released to prevent further trouble. Bears are shot and killed only when they are known to endanger lives of people and when they have done extensive damage to property.

Game Biologist El Harger, Cusino Wildlife Research Station, Shingleton, and his assistant Lynn Rogers have weighed, tagged, aged and sexed 108 bears already this summer. His greatest total in the past was 40 in 1967.

Harger believes that the low kill of black bears in the Upper Peninsula during the past three bear seasons account for part of the large number of bears causing trouble this summer in the Upper Peninsula. He estimates that there are an additional 1,200 bears in the Upper Peninsula woods because of this reason.

Harger and Rogers anesthetized 14 bears in the past week. Five were taken in the Ontonagon village area, four from the Sylvania Tract in Gogebic County and the others were singles taken in Dickinson, Schoolcraft, Alger and West Gobegic Counties.

The 173 pound mother bear and her three cubs were taken from the Sylvania Tract after many complaints were filed by campers in the Clark Lake area. The adult female bear literally chased the campers away and ate their food. Harger and Rogers, Conservation Officer Charles Haapala, Watersmeet, and the Sylvania Tract area manager and his assistant traveled by boat to the trouble area, where they anesthetized the mother and caught the three cubs. All were transferred to Alger County where they were released together. The three cubs weighed 24, 30 and 31 pounds.

The Baraga District has received 156 complaints about bears this summer; the Crystal Falls District 15, the Escanaba District (Delta, Marquette and West Alger Counties) 117 and the Newberry District 50.

Discrimination

DETROIT (AP) — The State Civil Rights Commission will receive a $20,000 grant from the U. S. Equal Opportunity Commission for research aimed at eliminating job discrimination. The commission plans to examine the hiring practice of employers with few or no Negro or Spanish-speaking workers. Emphasis will be on working through existing laws to eliminate any discrimination in hiring.

Floyd Cassidy Made Director

Floyd R. Cassidy of 1017 S. 12th Street, Escanaba, attended the Sixth Annual Workshop for Elementary School Principals. Mr. Cassidy is a principal at the Webster and Washington schools.

The workshop was held at Camp Kett near Cadillac on Aug. 4-7. The annual Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals Summer Conference provides in-depth opportunity for beginning and experienced principals to gain information, compare views, and share ideas with fellow administrators. Principals and Administrators from throughout the state were in attendance.

Cassidy was recently elected to the board of directors of the Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals. This is the policy making body of the state association. In addition to this, Cassidy will inform the board of directors of Upper Peninsula's regional ideas and opinions, and he will disseminate the proceedings of the state board of directors to his region.

The raisin industry of California was started by the Jesuit friars, priests and Franciscan padres.

1st Graders Learn Faster

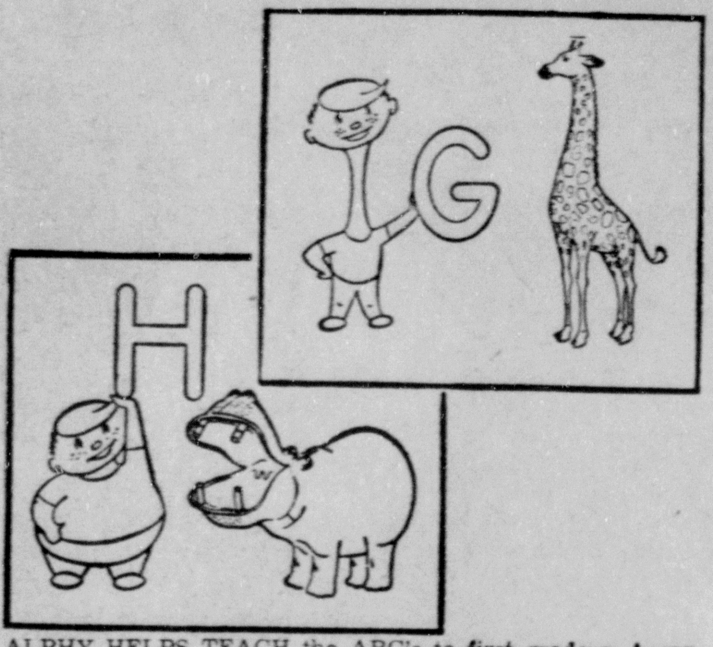
First grade classes are now learning to read at a speed four times the normal painful process. A new fast-paced program for teaching reading with overhead projectors, a cartoon character and multiple appeals to children's senses has first grade tots reading adult newspapers by the end of their first year.

At the St. Jude School in Mahtomedi, near St. Paul, Minnesota, first-graders have developed vocabularies up to 2,000 words compared to the norm of about 500 words, according to their teacher, Sister Rosaria.

"Prior to this program, I would have seriously questioned that the first grade child could achieve such progress in reading," she says. "Our formal curriculum proceeded so quickly that we were finished two months ahead of schedule."

St. Jude was selected as an evaluation center for the new visual-linguistic reading program developed by the grades one to six.

Prime mover in this speeded-up reading program is a little 'boy' named Alphy, a cartoon figure who represents the age group involved. He's alert, likeable and fun. He's also a first-rate teacher of the alphabet. Sister Rosaria projects him and the letter to be learned on the overhead projector. Alphy is round and fat when the letter is "O" for instance—and taller and thin for "L".



ALPHY HELPS TEACH the ABC's to first-graders. A cartoon figure, he looks mischievous and likes fun. Youngsters identify with him easily, learn more readily. Teachers use overhead projectors to carry out the program planned for grades one to six.

Once the ground work is laid, the children proceed quickly on to letter combinations and word groups. Again, with the projector, Sister Rosaria introduces the children to word concepts such as "cat". And from rhyming their new word concepts—cat and hat—it is an easy step to sentence learning. All along the way, the new program provides entertainment for the youngsters.

The projector technique is also used for the two final goals: reading independently and working in their notebooks. Here, the teacher has unusual freedom of instruction. An entire class can now be taught as one group, while the entire class is doing individual work. Facing the class while instructing with the overhead projected visuals, it is easy for Sister Rosaria to spot each student's difficulties and immediately clear them up. She roams around the classroom, peering over shoulders, offering help and checking on each child individually.

The visual transparencies developed by 3 M for projection also prove enormous time-savers for the teacher, adds Sister Rosaria. She can pull them out and review as many as 10 lessons in less than 15 minutes. "I found that in my own case, I saved 10 to 12 hours normally spent each weekend in getting ready for the coming five days' work," she reports.

But the greatest advantage to the teacher, Sister Rosaria concludes, is the "freedom to teach" which the new 3 M program provides. In other words, it offers the ability to establish rapport with individual pupils, to become familiar with each of their needs on a one-to-one basis.

VFW Proposes 10-Year Terms For Justices

DETROIT (AP) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars proposed Tuesday that U.S. Supreme Court justices be appointed for 10-year terms—rather than for life—contending that "in its zeal to uphold the rights of individuals" the court has ignored protection of society from crime and violence.

The action came on unanimous passage of a resolution from Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, a VFW member.

It asked Congress to submit a constitutional amendment on the term limitation.

Under the proposal a justice could be reappointed by the President and seated for additional 10-year terms if confirmed by the Senate.

Musmanno's resolution charged the court has "released outlaws, criminals and Communists under the flimsiest of technicalities" and exercises "an authority that surpasses that of any ancient Roman emperor."

Apply Cologne With Left Hand

Nowadays, it seems that even age 13 isn't too young for a boy to start a fragrance habit.

Retailers across the nation, who feel the boom buying market for male scents, report that in the rural towns as well as the big towns, today's boys prefer to smell good!

In college towns, an additional fragrant fact is cited. Many men's colognes are selling faster than women's. It appears that men can sniff a fashion trend, especially when it gets them behind the ears.

Scent News

As a back-to-school gift, fragrances for men are now as essential to a student's wardrobe as sweaters and long necklaces, according to fashion experts of Pfizer's Leeming Division. As producers of a particularly virile fragrance for young males, called Hai Karate, they have just made a new chop into the male world of scent. They have originated a new green fragrance, fresh but Far Eastern in mood, named Hai Karate Oriental Lime. But don't drink it—even though every bottle is said to contain a splash of real lime.

The Hai Karate people, who pack every one of their colognes and aftershaves with self-defense instructions for men against attacks by women, have another instructive recommendation for men: The etiquette, or proper use, of men's fragrances.

Left Hand Only

Did you know that a man should apply his after-shave lotion or cologne with only his left hand — even if he is a Southpaw? Otherwise, when he shakes hands with another person, he will leave scent on the other person's hand. Although men's scents are generally lighter and less clinging than women's, no good fragrance can be removed by washing. Therefore, use the left hand only.

Men, especially young men, say researchers, "have become very sophisticated about scents in the past few years, and are often more discriminating in what they will use than the ladies."

INDIAN CLAIMS

Since 1946, when they were first allowed to bring legal action against the U. S. government without obtaining its permission, American Indian tribes have filed claims to lands which amount to an aggregate area larger than the United States, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Data Processing Taught In Rural Schools Now

A revolutionary new course in data processing is now available to the rural schools which three years ago had neither time, money, nor manpower to teach a computer class, 3 M Co., officials have announced.

"The one semester course, 'Introduction to Data Processing,' costs little money since no actual computers or specialized teachers are needed," Ray W. Hass, company data processing manager, said.

Hass designed the computer class at the 3 M Co., St. Paul. The course is developed especially for rural schools. Prior to this break-through, only urban schools could afford to rent computers and pay special teachers for automation courses.

"Introduction to Data Processing" is aimed at high school seniors. The class familiarizes students with jobs computers do, as well as employment opportunities available in the field.

★ ★ ★

Class material includes 250 detailed colored, overhead projection transparencies. These transparencies substitute for the actual computers in illustrating data processing.

When projected on a screen, the transparencies magnify the actual size of computer parts and systems. This enlargement of the machinery enables students to see parts of the equipment which might be hidden from view in the actual computer.

Recently, a small high school in Fairmont, Minn.—population 12,000—became the first rural school to test the data processing course. This decision was made after Hass presented a course outline to the school principal, superintendent of schools, and board of education in the area.

★ ★ ★

Since no provisions had been made previously for the class prior to this year, it was incorporated into a "Related Office Procedures" course. Instructor Michael J. Huggett integrated about one-third of the new material into the curriculum, first, "to take the mystery out of data processing", "to show students how their future work might be affected by data processing."

Reaction to the course at Fairmont Senior High School has been enthusiastic. The class has been incorporated into the school's 1968-69 curriculum as a separate course.

Instructor Huggett emphasized after teaching the new course: "The class is organized in such a way that an instructor without previous experience in the data processing field can present the material with confidence.

★ ★ ★

C. H. Hegdal, Fairmont Senior High School principal, has praised the course for exposing students to one of the fastest growing fields in the U. S. He said it is a high school's responsbility to prepare students with skills they need not only today, but in the '70's, '80's, and '90's.

"Education systems must be alert to the changing needs of society, and gear its curriculum to anticipate this need," Hegdal said. "This data processing class is doing exactly that."

PERSONAL GROOMING

A good way to get the most stubborn dirt from under fingernails is to scrub them with dry baking soda on a wet brush... When using a regular razor, you'll get a closer shave by cutting across the beard with diagonal strokes... Best time to shave (unless in a hurry) is an hour or more after getting up. Face puffiness, after sleep, retards getting a good shave.

Learning Helped By Talking Toy

"Why can't Mary read?"

This oft-repeated question may at last be destined for oblivion, through the efforts of —imagine—a toymaker!

The world's largest toymaker, in fact. For Mattel, Inc. has just introduced the Talking-Learning Machine, a unique foundation toy for the learning years destined to open up whole new horizons of discovery and delight for pre-school and lower grade children.

This fascinating toy contains 432 different sound tracks of nouns, verbs, adjectives, colors, numbers, music and sounds. Sturdy and colorful, it is battery operated and comes with 36 separate Talking Tiles which actually "speak" three languages — French, Spanish, and English.

It is truly child's-play to operate, for the Talking Tiles may be fed through a hopper or linked together in a tile "train" which can make whole sentences or just hilarious nonsense.

Six different categories can be selected by just the touch of a lever and these include the aforementioned languages plus "Music," "Question," and "Surprise."

Two books come with the Talking - Learning Machine. One is "My Book" for use by the child which explains and illustrates how to work the toy and also includes a coloring-book section with figures identical to those on many of the Talking Tiles. The other is a Parents' Guide Book, which in addition to a more sophisticated description of this durable toy, offers instructions for many learning games that parent or siblings may want to play.

Shopping's Way To End Son's Loading On Dad

"Hey, Dad, can I borrow this tie? (these cufflinks?) (your shaver?) (the car?)"

Today, in homes across the country, there exists a very curious facet of every father-son relationship which finds its basis in "borrowing." Remember Junior's last date—the one when he borrowed Dad's raincoat and umbrella? That's what we mean.

Because most sons rely so heavily on borrowing from Dad, by the time they're ready for college a sweeping shopping tour is in order—not only to ensure that all borrowed goods are returned to their rightful owner, but to provide Junior with some personal essentials before he goes off on his own.

The task of shopping for these essentials usually falls to Mom, probably because she has the most time for it (or so Son thinks). But since so many of the items a son will need are male-oriented, it might be a good idea if Father went along on one of the shopping trips. After all, who's in a better position to judge his son's preferences than the guy who's been borrowed from all these years?

For example, take a shaver. Can you see Mother trying to select one of those? It can even be difficult for the men in the family.

TOWER OF BABEL

The tower of Babel was a terraced pyramid, called a ziggurat, near Babylon in Mesopotamia. According to the Bible, it was started by the descendants of Noah.

Glasses End Outdoor Glare

Glare is highly irritating to eyes.

Indoors, make sure that you read and work in well-lit areas that are free from glare. Never work near a "naked" light bulb, or use low-wattage bulbs in reading or working areas.

When watching television, don't sit in utter darkness. Specialists say there should always be a second light source in the room to prevent eye strain.

Outdoors, protect your eyes from excessive light with sunglasses, and be sure they're prescription lenses if you wear glasses regularly. Even with sunglasses, you should never look directly at the sun. The intensity of its rays can cause permanent damage.

Hours of reading, and late evenings of work or play, all contribute to irritated, aching eyes.

Hard-working eyes need a break. If they are tired, don't rub them. Rubbing can cause serious scratching of the cornea. Rest them, instead, by refocusing into the distance for brief periods.

Give eyes a "look-alert look" by using decongestant eye drops.

Girls, above all, should remember that dull eyes are a dead giveaway of fatigue or too little sleep. Since make-up today places total emphasis on eyes, the first step in making-up should be eye drops to restore whiteness and sparkle. There is nothing less attractive than heavily fringed red, irritated eyes!

But if your eyes look or feel tired and dull chronically, be sure to consult an eye specialist. Remember, your eyes are the only ones you'll ever have! So make it a practice to get regular eye examinations at least every two years.

Jackson Votes On Income Tax

JACKSON (AP)—The Jackson city commission Tuesday scheduled Nov. 5, date of the national presidential election, for a referendum on a proposed income tax for all city workers.

The tax—one per cent for city residents and ½ per cent for those working in Jackson but living in area townships—was expected to produce $1.2 million in revenue the first year.

The commission had voted several months ago to institute the tax, but a petition signed by 1,500 qualified voters sought the referendum.

Second Chance

DETROIT (AP) — Some 300 Detroit area high school students are getting a second chance at college through a program offered at Wayne State University for students whose college entrance examination scores previously were unacceptable.

Courses offered are in remedial reading and freshman level political science, social sciences and literature.

EYEGEAR LOOK-ALIKES . . . Boy meets girl. Boy watches girl. And before you know it they have eyes for no one else in their matching sun specs. They're wearing sunglasses with the "straight-A" visor. No overhead glare; those lenses let you see what you want to see, be it date or data.

Suzan L. Sundberg, Michael Piller Wed

Miss Suzan Lee Sundberg of Rte. 3, Rapid River became the bride of Airman I.C. Michael E. Piller of Waukesha, Wis. during a military wedding ceremony performed Saturday, Aug. 3 at the Keesler Air Force Base Chapel, Biloxi, Miss.

The Rev. James Nuxholl officiated at the double ring Nuptial Mass at 12 noon. Large vases of white gladiolus adorned the altar for the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Sundberg of Rte. 3 Rapid River and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Piller of 322 Scott Ave., Waukesha.

Honor attendants for the couple were Miss Michelle Steede of Escanaba and Walter Kelm of Keesler AFB. Seating the guests was Ernie Mantzouris and ring bearer was Bruce Sundberg, brother of the bride.

Peau de Soie

The bride selected for her wedding, a floor length gown of peau de soie fashioned with a scalloped square neckline, long lace sleeves and a sequin trimmed bodice. The bell shaped skirt was styled with an antique lace overlay and the cathedral train was attached at the back waistline.

A pearl tiara centered with a miniature Swedish crown held her elbow length nylon illusion veil and she carried a lace covered prayer book topped with white gardenias.

The maid of honor wore a pale yellow floor length gown with a nylon sheer overlay styled with a lace Empire bodice. A matching yellow bow and short veil formed her headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies with ribbon streamers.

Mothers' Attire

Mrs. Sundberg wore for her daughter's wedding a two piece turquoise lace dress with white accessories and she was presented a corsage of pale pink carnations.

Mrs. Marie Sundberg of Ensign and Mrs. William LaCroix of Gladstone, grandmothers of the bride, were also presented corsages.

The reception was held from 1 to 4 p. m. at the Airmen's Club banquet room. Following a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination the newlyweds will reside in Biloxi.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Rapid River High School and attended Northern Michigan University and Bay de Noc Community College. Airman Piller is a 1967 graduate of Waukesha High School and is presently serving with the U. S. Air Force.

Grape Boycott Gets Lansing's Council Backing

LANSING (AP)—City Council has thrown its support behind the current California table grape boycott — and monkeys may feel the wrath.

Council ordered city agents or employes dealing in California table grapes to stop buying them in support of an attempted nationwide boycott spurred by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Among Lansing grape purchases are some 10 pounds a week for monkeys and chimpanzees at the Potter Park Zoo.

"I guess the monkeys and chimps will have to eat Michigan grapes," said Charles G. Hayden, parks director. Michigan Farm Bureau officials have said Michigan grapes will begin to appear on the market by early September.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES C. CORDRAY of 6168 Carnation Drive, Dayton, Ohio, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lynda Darlene, to Sgt. Ronald Wayne Gauthier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond J. Gauthier, 1308 5th Ave. S. The bride-elect is a graduate of Wilbur-Wright High School in Dayton and is presently employed as a secretary by the National Cash Register Co. Her fiance is a 1963 graduate of Escanaba High School and is presently serving with the United States Air Force at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. A Sept. 7 wedding will be held at Fairview United Methodist Church in Dayton.

Schools Must Face Parent Power

You've heard about teacher power and student power. Now parents are joining the ranks of those militants who want a voice in educational affairs, and this kind of power—parent power—may turn out to be the most effective of all.

In recent years teachers have become restless and assertive of their rights as citizens and educators, demanding a voice in the educational community, and students have become vocal about their rights on university and high school campuses. Finally, parents are becoming more involved in the running of school affairs.

School administrators have traditionally been uneasy about delegating authority to teachers. Teachers have been equally reluctant to turn over too much responsibility to students, and stduents have always resisted restrictive measures from adults, particularly their parents.

Parents Demanding More

Now there are rumblings from the militant, better informed, more demanding parent and he wants to know what his child is learning, why he isn't getting the latest technological equipment why his school is not doing a better job in preparing the child for college and job employment.

For example, a ruckus in Harlem's Intermediate School (IS) 201 recently had racial overtones, but the major issues had to do with parents demanding more qualified teachers and administrators, more relevant curriculum, and certainly more community involvement. The schools were under attack by parents who demanded more of a voice in shaping policy in the education program.

David Spencer, a Negro parent whose child attends IS 201, wrote in the March 1968 issue of the NEA Journal, official publication of the National Education Association:

Want More Active Role

"There's 22 kids in my son's class. When I asked his teacher about was he in school this afternoon, she said, like 'Is he the noisy one? Is he the quiet one? Is he a nice kid?' Then finally she made up her mind to go get her attendance book, and she looked in it and she said, 'Oh yes, he was in school today. He left at 3.' And she only had 22 kids, and she didn't even know who he was."

Parental involvement has not been restricted to New York. Parents in Washington, D. C., want more to say about how the schools will be run. In many other large cities, and in the suburbs as well, parents are asking more questions and demanding a stronger voice in the operation of their children's schools. A recent study of San Mateo, Calif., schools showed that 65 per cent of the parents wanted to play a more active role in the school system.

These are but a few of the examples across the nation where parents are asking for their share in the operation of the schools. But all indications point to the fact that parent power will be a major force to be reckoned with in the years to come.

College Dispute Gets Factfinder

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The Michigan State Labor Relations Board Tuesday appointed Leon Hermann of Southfield as a factfinder in a dispute between the Battle Creek Board of Education and faculty members of Kellogg Community College.

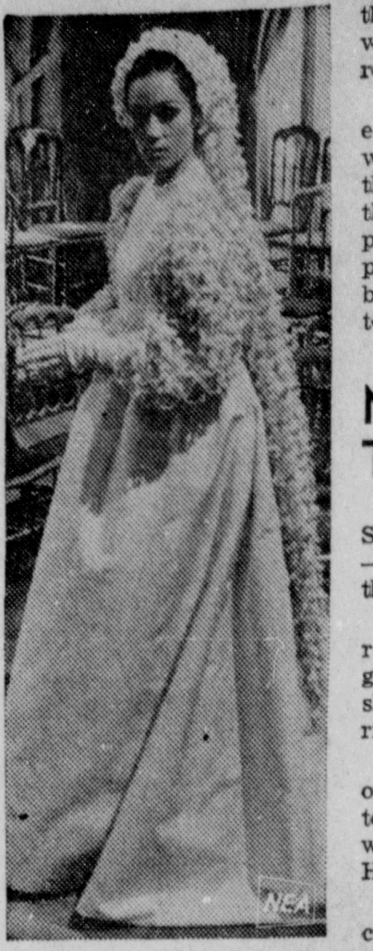
Robert Siecrist, a faculty spokesman, said unless the dispute is settled soon faculty members will not return to classes when the fall term resumes next week. He said the main issue involved is working conditions. Other issues had been settled, he said.

Closing Show

The 1968-69 Keweenaw Playhouse season at Calumet will conclude Aug. 20-25 with presentation of the hit musical, "The Fantasticks." Performances will be at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 25.

Powers-Spalding

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Williams of Denton, Texas are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bal in Powers.



WEDDING FLOWERS extend beyond the traditional bouquet in this gown designed by Guy Laroche. Seen in Paris, the dress features large puffy sleeves and a veil made up of fabric flowers. The high neck and waistline flow freely into a full skirt with a train.

Nervous Pup Turns To Paw-Sucking

CRESTON, Iowa (AP) — Snowball is a paw-sucking pup —the way some babies are thumb suckers.

When Snowball is getting ready to go to sleep or when she gets nervous about something, she lies down and sucks her right hind paw.

"Most of the time she crawls off in a corner or under, a chair to suck her paw, but not always," said her owner, Fred Hohneke of Creston.

Snowball is a white pooch—a cross, Hohneke said between a cocker spaniel and a spitz. She's about a year old.

Hohneke said she started her paw-sucking "perhaps six or eight months ago—last winter some time. We don't know exactly when. We first noticed it when we heard the sucking sounds."

1 Pattern Pant Wardrobe

What's your pants - fancy? Do you yearn to play Mata Hari in exotic flared-leg pants at your next party? Or are you an all-American girl and like yours straight and basic? Or, perhaps, you are the sporting type who plays it feminine all the way; you probably have your eye on culottes.

Since pants now span a woman's fashion calendar, the lady of fashion, on campus or off, is thinking in terms of pants, and more pants.

However, this can work some hardships on the wardrobe budget, especially if you are among that discriminating group who want the luxury of beautiful fit along with their fashion. You should get to know Else — Else of California. A European-trained designer and dressmaker, Else Tyroler specializes in basic custom pattern - designing for home sewers. The pattern now making its debut is another Else original . . . one multi-printed pants pattern from which you can whip up a complete pants wardrobe.

Not nimble with the thimble? Don't panic. The instructions are simple to follow, even entertaining. You will probably find yourself absorbed in following every step.

Another boon from the Else pattern is the fact that this one pattern can form the nucleus of the pants wardrobes of any other female, regardless of size, in the family. Yet the pattern retails in most leading fabrics and patterns departments for a mere two dollars.

According to Else, "This is the only pattern that offers all hip sizes from 32 to 44, and 11 or more styles in one." There's a priceless extra in every Else pattern: if you follow directions you will achieve the trim fit and perfect hang of costly custom-tailored pants.

To order your pattern, send $2.00 to: Else, Inc., 1543 S. Robertson Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90035.

Else is the author of two pioneering books: How to Make Dress Patterns Fit, $1.00; Sewing Pants for Women, $2.50. Prices include handling and postage within the continental United States. Be sure to include your name, address (with zip-code), plus check or money order. California residents, add 5 per cent sales tax.

Sue Movie Studio

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Cary Grant, producer Norman Krasna and others are suing Warner Bros.-Seven Arts, Inc., for $750,000.

The suit, filed Tuesday in Los Angeles Superior Court, alleged Warner Bros. improperly sold television rights of the film "Indiscreet" for a price below its value to Seven Arts, Inc., in a package deal before the two firms merged.

Grant, Krasna, Stanley Donen, Granley Co., Stanley Donen Films, Inc., and Granley Productions said they were to have divided 75 per cent of these receipts of the film.

Teachers Urging 10-Year Up-Date School Program

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 10-year program for public schools calling for an annual expenditure of $6.8 billion by 1977 was unveiled today at the American Federation of Teachers' convention.

In a study prepared for the AFT, Leon H. Keyserling, former chairman of the council of economic advisers in Washington, estimated the cost of educating a child in 1977 will increase from $660 a year to $1,534.

He said there is an urgent need to start a balanced 10-year program to achieve by 1977 standards of equalized excellence in every public school in the country.

In the next 10 years enrollment in public schools will increase from 43 million in 1967 to 45.7 million and classroom teachers should be increased from 1.7 million to 2.2 million, Keyserling said.

Salaries To Double

He predicted teachers' salaries would increase from a nationwide average last year of $6,830 to $10,711 in 1977 and total outlays for teachers salaries should rise from $12.25 billion to $24.5 billion in 10 years.

"Non - teacher instructional staff throughout the nation should rise from 188,000 in 1967 to 1,523,000 in 1977," Keyserling said. "Some of this increase would be for principals, supervisors, librarians, and guidance and psychological personnel; but more than 1.1 million of this increase should represent individuals (not fully accredited teachers) assisting teachers in instructional functions."

He estimated outlays in this category should rise from $1.8 billion in 1967 to $13.9 billion in 10 years.

More Classrooms

"The available supply of classrooms in the public schools should rise from 1,653,455 in 1967 to 2,285,000 in 1977," Keyserling said. "These are needed to take care of increased enrollment and reduced class size."

An annual average of 123,200 new classrooms should be constructed during the 1968-1977 period, he added.

Total capital outlays should rise from $4 billion in 1967 to $6.8 billion in 1977, and interest on the school debt would rise from $0.9 billion to $2.7 billion, Kerserling said.

He said if the goals of the program were to be achieved there was a need for drastic changes in the sharing of costs between the states and localities on the one hand, and the federal government on the other.

More U. S. Aid

Last year 91.9 per cent of the total cost of education in public schools was borne by the state and localities, and only 8.1 per cent by the federal government, Keyserling added.

He said by 1977 the state and local share in the totals $70.1 billion cost of public school education should be reduced to 61.1 per cent or $42.8 billion, and that the federal share be lifted to 38.9 per cent, or $27.3 billion.

The program is well within the country's economic and financial capabilities, Kerserling said.

"The first essential step is federal legislation, committing the nation and the people at large to this program which will be of such invaluable benefit to the nation and the people at large," he told the 900 delegates.

Junior Seeks Country Look

Now that the well-dressed Dad is sporting the "country look" in his suits, the well-turned out lad (and his style-conscious Mom) are looking for something similar for Junior.

This stylized, somewhat urbane look goes over just as big in Brooklyn and Minneapolis as it does in Great Shovel, Montana, to say nothing of Kahnbawl, Miss.

For boys are turning more and more to fashion (formerly a sissy word), including the belt-loops, the extension waistbands — more than anything, the color element associated with styling '68-69.

Boys are now accustomed to wearing the sports suit and the blazer (offshoots from the "country look") and they are expected to take to the longer jackets, the slight shapery, even in twills or tweedy fabrics. This shapery is of course more subtle than in Dad's suit . . . it suggests rather than defines.

Perhaps the most significant development is the stampede of coordinates to enhance this look . . . for instance:

High fashion dress shirts in medium shades of yellow, blue, green, gold and even gray (how sophisticated can you get?) These shirts have French cuffs and fashion spread collars . . . a definite departure from the button-downs. No longer will Momma be able to figure only two shirts for Junior. For Junior himself will be demanding a wardrobe of new shirts (like his fashionable Dad's).

Budget stand to suffer? Of course, but think of the prestige the new status on the block!

The perfect horse, according to Arabs, must have a neck curved like a crescent moon and a nose small enough to fit into a teacup.

Dear Heloise:

My two little daughters love to help mommy with everything, especially the things they aren't old enough to do.

Not wishing to discourage them, I get out my sewing box and let them mend and sew buttons on their own play clothes that aren't too badly ripped. They can sew on buttons quite well!

They may not sew as well as I do, but on play clothes it really doesn't matter and it makes them feel SO grown-up!

I think a lot of mothers would be surprised to see how much their children really can accomplish if they will just give them a chance.

Letter Of Truth

Dear Heloise:

I am sending along the creed of our Home Economics Club. Perhaps you have already read it, but if not, you certainly do help us all live up to it.

"We believe in the present and its opportunities, the future and its promises. In everything that makes life large and lovely. In the divine joy of living and helping others.

"And so we endeavor to pass on to others that which has benefited us, striving to go onward and upward in improving, enlarging and endearing the greatest institution in the world—THE HOME."

Jean, I kinda choked up when I read your beautiful creed . The world would be a better place to live in if we ALL followed and practiced those wonderful thoughts.

Dear Heloise:

Fishermen can use a large thread spool and a pencil to remove the line from a reel in order to straighten out the line or clean and grease the reel.

Place the pencil through the hole in the spool and wind the line from the reel onto the spool. Then when ready to place line back on the reel, hold the ends of the pencil with spool between your hands and just allow it to turn as you wind the line back on the reel.

You should recruit a helper to hold the spool and pencil for you. A wife is a very handy person to have around at a time like this!

John Smalls Honored At Farewell Party

The John Small family was honored with a farewell party at the Rock Bible Chapel Thursday, Aug. 15. The Rock and Forsyth Bible Chapels and the Rock Ladies Aid were in charge of arrangements.

Approximately 300 persons attended the party and a program followed the buffet style supper. Many gifts were presented to the couple.

John and Earlene Small graduated from Emmanus Bible School, Chicago, in May of 1948 and were married the next month. They came to the Upper Peninsula soon after to serve at the U.P. Bible Camp.

Sunday School Work

Registering as freshmen at Northern Michigan University that fall, they devoted weekends to Sunday School work at Little Lake and McFarland along with camp manager and his wife, Cam and Doris McCarthur.

A year later Mrs. Herman Johnson of Rock invited the Smalls to take over the American Sunday School Union work there and an evening Bible Hour was initiated in the town hall. The Smalls moved to Rock soon after and Mr. Small became elementary principal and teacher at the Rock School, a position he has held until this spring.

Three Chapels

Through the years many Rock young people and adults shared in the gospel effort and also aided in the construction of three chapels, the Rock Bible Chapel being completed in 1963.

The Smalls are moving to Missoula, Mont. this month to begin a similiar pioneer effort in Christian work. Their only daughter, Marilyn, is a sophomore student at Emmanus Bible School and the Smalls also have four sons, Dan, Bob, Gary and Jeff.

The Ben Yeadons and Don Yeadons, formerly of Rock, are moving back with their families to maintain the Rock Bible Chapel.

Dear Heloise:

I have a wonderful suggestion for shampooing after a day at the beach.

First give the hair a good brushing. Then massage the scalp with olive or baby oil. Leave this on for 20 to 30 minutes. Now shampoo with plenty of lather, rinse and set.

Sure helps condition the hair after being exposed to sun and sand.

Mrs. David W. Goymerac (Gordon Nelson Studio)

Kay E. Roberts Bride Of David W. Goymerac

St. Charles Borromeo Church in Rapid River was the setting Saturday, Aug. 10 for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Kay Elizabeth Roberts of Rapid River and David William Goymerac of Escanaba.

The Rev. Conrad Dishaw heard the solemn exchange of vows at 2 p. m. Arrangements of yellow and white gladiolus and mums adorned the church altar for the service. Mrs. Mary Sue Elegreet was the organist and soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roberts of Rapid River and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. George Goymerac of 1407 N. 18th St., Escanaba.

Maid of honor for her cousin was Miss Sara Johnson and bridesmaids were Joan Roberts, sister of the bride and Mrs. Linda Micheau.

Serving as best man was Ronald Erickson and groomsmen were Ronald Lustick and Tim Goymerac, brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Paul Roberts and Gene DeKeyser.

Lace, Organza

The bride chose for her wedding a semi-fitted gown of Alencon lace and silk organza fashioned with a jewel neckline, three quarter length sleeves and a pleated lace train.

A crystal and jewel crown held her shoulder length double tiered veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and ivy foliage.

The bridal aides wore Empire styled yellow gowns accented with flower trim. Petal headpieces with matching yellow veiling completed their attire and they carried rattan cages filled with yellow and gold Fugi pompons.

Mothers' Attire

Mrs. Roberts wore for her daughter's wedding a pink brocade dress with matching coat and accessories and was presented a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Goymerac selected an ivory and gold jacket ensemble with coral accessories and pinned a yellow carnation corsage.

The wedding reception was held from 4 to 8 p. m. at the Dutch Mill in Rapid River with a dance following.

Following a wedding trip to California, the newlyweds will reside at 2100 Ludington St.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Rapid River High School and is employed at the First National Bank of Escanaba. Mr. Goymerac is a 1960 graduate of Holy Name High School and received his B. S. degree from Northern Michigan University.

School Reminder About Slimming

Confronted for the first time with selecting all of their own food, many students soon find the bathroom scales giving them a flunking score as the extra pounds creep on and clothes become uncomfortably snug.

Now's the time to call a halt to that slow but steady gain. There's a good deal of truth in the adage "nobody loves a fat girl," or boy, for that matter. And if you're heading for school already pleasingly plump, don't be surprised if new girl friends and prospective boy friends alike take a somewhat dimmer view of the "chubby" you than mama and papa did at home.

An easy solution to the slimdown problem may be at least one metered calorie meal a day. If you can't resist desserts and your sweet tooth demands an afternoon snack, then you have got to balance calories somehow.

LIGHTEN HAIR WITH CARE

Becoming a blonde has its problems, even in this day of safe and easy-to-use products. However, the biggest pitfall of lightening your own hair is overlapping while lightening the new hair growth, and this can be eliminated with care and baby oil. Carefully apply the lightener to only the root area that needs retouching, then apply baby oil to the rest of the hair strand to keep the bleaching product from seeping onto the hair that is already lightened.

TAKE CARE OF HANDS

One well-known connoisseur of beauty claimed he could tell the age of any woman by studying her hands. If yours are dry and roughened, give them the daily protection of a creamy lotion. A good hand lotion contains moisturizers and softeners that lubricate skin and combat chapping. Apply the lotion liberally to arms and elbows, too, where skin is apt to be dry. To nudge yourself into the hand - protection habit, keep extra lotion near the kitchen sink, laundry room or in desk drawer.

Connor And Tech Team In Maple Fertilization Test

CONNOR FORESTERS mark and fertilize a selected crop tree. They are Bruce Spike, left, district forester, and Leo Chantelois, forest superintendent. (MTU Photo)

HOUGHTON—Connor Forest Industries of Michigan and Wisconsin has awarded a $6,900 research grant to Michigan Technological University to study the feasibility of fertilizing sugar maple trees.

The concept is similar to fertilization techniques employed for farm crops, but on a more massive and complicated scale.

In announcing the grant, company President Gordon Connor Sr. expressed his hope that the MTU research would result in practical techniques for fertilizing trees of high potential quality.

"Connor Forest Industries is growing trees on approximately 200,000 acres of forest land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and Wisconsin," stated Connor. "Even a 10 per cent increase in growth on this land is equivalent to the yield from 20,000 additional acres," he added.

"Valuewise, it may be several times as great, due in part to the fact that this additional volume of available timber would be adjacent to our operating mills and served by our well-developed road system."

The project director is Dr. Eric Bourdo, director of Michigan Tech's Ford Forestry Center near L'Anse. The field studies are being conducted by Dr. Stephen Shetron, research forester at the Center, with the assistance of Ronald Henninger, graduate student in forestry.

The study involves two approaches. Fertilized and unfertilized strips on 40-acre tracts have been established on Connor holdings near L'Anse, Newberry, and Wakefield, Mich., and near Laona, Wis., to determine the differential response to fertilization of a wide range of soils. The second approach involves comparing paired treated and untreated trees by foliar analysis and other measurements to determine the best fertilizer mixtures.

Encouraging the growth of selected, high quality trees should increase the supply of the high value logs which always are in demand. Connor Forest Industries is among the first forest enterprises to promote fertilization practices in the forest similar to those which have been so successful in agriculture.

Dairy Income Growth Is Told

COLUMBUS — Dairy cooperative progress called "the first big step forward in 45 years" by one speaker was analyzed and discussed by nearly 300 dairy farmer leaders at the ninth annual meeting of the Great Lakes Milk Marketing Federation Aug. 13-14 here.

They re-elected Glenn Lake, of North Branch, Mich., as president of the 30,667 member Great Lakes Milk Marketing Federation, and voted new one-year terms as well for vice president Donald G. Fatchett, of Blissfield, Mich., and secretary-treasurer Harry Homer, of Louisville, Ohio. All are leaders in one of the 19 cooperatives which make up the Great Lakes Federation.

Lake, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, Detroit, told the dairy farmer delegates that the organization sold almost nine-and-a-half billion pounds of milk for its members in 1968, and the dairy farmers who produced the milk received almost $524 million for it. More than $31 million of the money represented premium pricing that Great Lakes bargaining strength was able to bring, he said.

Dr. L. L. Boger of Michigan State University, noted that industrialization and the fact that farmers generally have less than two-thirds the per capita income of the rest of the nation are challenges still to be met.

"It makes no sense," Boger said, quoting Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman, "that consumers should be paying a good 20 per cent more for food than they did two decades ago — while farmers get 6 per cent less for producing that food — and pay 30 per cent more for the supplies to produce it."

Boger said that "if farmers want to prevent extensive vertical integration or extensive corporate farming, they can do so only through group or political action. If farmers want to organize and bargain as a group, they can do so, although it will take a lot of sweat and tears to get the job done."

Racket Murder Mistrial Called

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A murder trial involving an alleged Mafia loan-shark racket ended Tuesday in a mistrial before Macomb County Circuit Judge Alton H. Noe.

Noe ordered a new trial for John Palmer, 30, of Detroit, after ruling that a statement by Police Lt. Richard Oakes prejudiced the case against Palmer.

Palmer was returned to county jail without bond to await the new trial for second-degree murder in the fatal beating last March of Sam DiMaggio, 57, of Sterling Heights.

DiMaggio reputedly was the victim of a so-called "juice racket" involving loans at inflated interest rates and was beaten for failing to make a loan payment.

Noe said Oakes testified he had traced telephone numbers found on Palmer to Atlanta, Ga. He then said the body of Robert J. Dunaway, 37, of Grosse Pointe Woods was later found in Atlanta. Police said they believe Dunaway, an alleged Mafia muscleman, was involved with Palmer in the DiMaggio beating and the Mafia were irrelevant to the trial.

May Britt Sues Sammy Davis Jr. For Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Blonde Swedish actress May Britt, after nearly eight years of marriage, is suing Sammy Davis Jr., for divorce.

A suit filed Tuesday in Santa Monica Superior Court said Davis "inflicted great anguish and mental suffering" upon her, causing illness and unhappiness.

The action came four days after Frank Sinatra, a close friend of Davis, was divorced by Mia Farrow at Juarez, Mexico. The Sinatras separated last October—two days before Davis, a Negro, and Miss Britt announced a parting of ways.

Miss Britt, who has lived in the couple's $320,000 Bel Air home since the separation, asked for division of the community property in "a just manner" and custody of their three children.

Math Teaching Still Outdated

The educational revolution may be among the hottest news items in America since the industrial revolution, but the opening guns in the field of mathematics are still to be heard, according to Robert B. Davis, director of The Madison Project at Syracuse University and Webster College.

In a report titled "The Changing Curriculum: Mathematics," written for the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, a department of the National Education Association, Davis claims "the new mathematics revolution" has not taken place, "but — considering the pressures that are building up — it probably will, possibly within the next 10 y[illegible]."

Last year the United States [illegible] a large-scale in[illegible] test involving 12 well-developed nations. Japan [illegible] with 76 per cent scoring in the upper half of the chosen international standards, and the United States scored 43 per cent in comparable tests. The obvious question raised in a country which prides itself on technological excellence is: Who is to blame?

The problem is too widespread to pin down to any one single factor, Davis reports. One problem, he charges, is that "schools appear to be afflicted with a tendency toward becoming academic, irrelevant, hypercritical, uninspiring and ineffective." Davis contends that in the field of mathematics in other countries, notably England, teaching techniques have kept up with the general upgrading of the schools, whereas in this country curriculum content and methodology have changed very little.

Davis is critical of the rote memory technique used in some schools, and praises those techniques that emphasize the individual learning habits and intellectual levels of youngsters.

Reds Build DMZ Bases: Harriman

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said today that North Vietnamese forces have been building "bases for attack" in the southern half of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

Going into the 18th session of the Paris peace talks, Harriman declared that U.S. and allied forces in a recent strike into the zone had captured an order for an attack by a Northern battalion into South Vietnam.

"This again indicates," Harriman told reporters, "that the North Vietnamese have not been willing to undertake any measures of restraint in response to the action the President took on March 31."

The meeting was attended by Le Duc Tho, Special North Vietnamese counselor who returned last week from consultations in Hanoi. Ambassador Xuan Thuy, who has been suffering with a cold, was also present.

Harriman said so far as the demilitarized zone is concerned, President Johnson had restrained U.S. forces from entering the southern part of the zone. But about Aug. 15 they were "compelled to go into the southern portion."

"They found there, entrenched, elements of the North Vietnamese army," Harriman said.

Kelley, Romney Back Bonding

MUSKEGON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today joined Gov. George Romney in urging voter support for two big state bonding proposals which will be on the November ballot.

The proposals call for issuing $100 million in state - backed bonds for recreation and $335 million for water pollution control.

While attending a conference on water pollution laws sponsored by the Great Lakes Commission, Kelley urged Michigan voters "to vote for their future and the future of their children" by supporting the two proposals.

The $335 million pollution bonding "would be a massive shot in the arm to the war against pollution of our lakes and streams," he said. "It is an essential first step. Without it we will face desperate prospects."

Letter From Prague:

Czechs In Support Of Dubcek Regime

Two Escanaba students, Gary Olsen, 1401 14th Ave. S., and Steve Anzalone, 506 S. 17th St., have been touring in Europe for the past two months. They are 1966 graduates of Escanaba Area High School. Recently they visited Prague and met with Czechoslovakian students. They wrote the following account of the Czech confrontation of the Russians over self-expression under communism for the Escanaba Daily Press before the invasion by Russia.

By GARY OLSEN and STEVE ANZALONE

PRAGUE — The apparent victory of Czechoslovakia at the hands of the Soviets in Bratislava was a quiet one. Czech leader, Alexander Dubcek went the distance to Bratislava pretty much alone. Yet a reported 90 per cent of the Czech people stood quietly behind him—a rare consensus in present day Czechoslovakia.

Recognition of this victory came on Marshall Tito's recent visit to Prague. It was Tito's Yugoslavian regime that initially broke from the iron grip of Moscow. His visit to Prague so soon after Bratislava seemed to indicate his hope that Czechoslavakia would follow a similiar path away from Moscow.

The quiet Bratislava victory became a noisy one when the car carrying Dubcek and Tito drove through the thousands of cheering Czechs who awaited their arrival at the ancient Hradcany castle overlooking Prague.

Czechs Optimistic

The people's excitement over Tito's visit illustrates their optimism in the future of their country. For now, faith in Dubcek's promises for more freedom does not seem ill-founded.

But widespread confidence in the Dubcek regime came about only after the negotiations in Cierra and Bratislava. Until then many were skeptical of the validity of Dubceks promises.

For instance, two university students from Prague traveling through France in early July expressed only pessimism. They felt that the upheaval that brought Dubcek to power was only a reshuffling of the same government officials. From the time Dubcek promised reform, they saw no significant changes, and they expected none. Neither did they have hope for Dubcek making a successful stand against the Soviets.

The two students anticipated only a future as a soviet puppet, devoid of personal freedom and economic prosperity.

Students Won Over

But after Bratislava the same students speaking in Prague expressed genuine optimism. Since students normally form the most cynical element of any society, there is reason to believe that the majority of the Czech people now share the same optimism.

Gary Olsen

Their hope and confidence for a freer society does not seem utopian. Because on the day after Tito arrived, Czech students presented a petition on Prague's busy Na prin kope street. The petition demanded an end to all censorship and called for free elections. This petitioning would not have been possible a few months before.

Another example of the support for Dubcek is the students' desire to help the crippled economy, which rests on income from foreign currency. On the streets, one can sell his forcign currency at twice the rate paid by the government banks. But one Czech student said that he hoped visitors would exchange at the lower bank rate rather than at the more lucrative black market prices in order to help the struggling government.

Support Government

However, this new support for the government cannot be construed as support for communism. Czech students have long been anti - communist. They view communism as another interruption of the democratic tradition that first was broken by Nazi Germany.

On the other hand, Czech students now look forward to what they call the "ideal socialism". This is a combination of the freedoms found in democracy and an economic communism. They see Dubcek as the first step toward this end.

Already in a tangible sense, the signs of improvement can be seen in Prague. The beautiful City of Spires on the gentle Ultava River is getting a face-lifting. Modernization can be seen in the roads being rebuilt and the buildings being renovated. The physical renewal in the capital city shows a preparation for a better future.

But will there be a better future for the people of Czechoslovakia? Will the hope for a freer society become a reality? Although the spirit and support of the people for the government has been ignited, the answer to the questions lies in the willingness of Dubcek's government to respond to the hopes of the people.

As one Czech student said, "This is the last chance for the Communists to prove they are honest men."

State Park Use Heavy In U. P.

Indicating a "now or never" attitude on the part of vacationers, there was heavy use of the 15 state parks in the Upper Peninsula last week, the Conservation Department reports.

Seven parks have turned away a total of 4,346 camping families this year because of lack of facilities. More than 23,000 have attended evening programs in the parks.

The report by individual parks includes:

Fayette: Camping and attendance both up 22 per cent over last year. Five boats made it into the harbor after high winds had kept them on nearby island overnight — trip was continued overland. Good catches of bass and northerns being made in harbor and neighboring waters.

Fort Wilkins: Camping records fall as both campgrounds fill to capacity during first half of the week, with 65 camps turned away.

Indian Lake: South shore campground filled nightly but west shore campground handling the surplus well despite water pump troubles. Indian Lake country getting a little coho fever as the late summer run is building up off Thompson Creek within casting range.

Muskalonge Lake: Camping use continues to break records over any previous year, and Musky's campers continue to camp longer than at any other Region I park.

Luxury Key To New Chryslers

ATLANTA (AP) — Chrysler Corp. took the wraps off its 1969 cars today and made it plain it is going after the car buyer with big car tastes and a pocketbook to match.

Length and luxury were the key words through the new Chrysler line which was shown to 300 auto writers at the firm's annual press preview.

Chrysler President Virgil A. Boyd described the car as "the results of a strategy that was set down seven years ago that was the basis of the Chrysler turnaround and our rising fortunes since that time."

Boyd and Chrysler Board Chairman Lynn A. Townsend took an optimistic view of the auto business for the year ahead saying, "We at Chrysler expect 1969 calendar year retail auto sales in the United States to at least equal and possibly exceed 1968." Boyd forecast calendar 1068 sales would hit 9.3 million cars.

Townsend said the nation's economy "is generally showing signs of a gradual slowing down in the rate of growth" but he attributed it to the government income surtax and other measures taken to slow down inflationary trends.

He predicted the world market for autos would grow rapidly to 34 million cars and trucks by 1978, compared with 23.8 million in 1967.

Business Gains 9%:

Escanaba Stands Second In U.P.

Bank debits in Escanaba during July showed an increase of 9 per cent from the same period a year ago, according to statistics released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

In dollars, Escanaba bank debits volume during July was $23,753,000. In the same month of 1967, the total figure was $21,830,000.

During the 12 months through July 1968 bank debits amounted to $281,956,000, an increase of 5 per cent from the previous 12 month period.

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts and thus represent payments for goods, services, debts, etc. They also include transfers of funds which of themselves have no business significance. Bank debits mainly include all debits against checking accounts of individuals, partnerships and corporations, and of states and political subdivisions.

They do not include debits to the accounts of other banks, the United States government and savings accounts.

The volume of bank debits reported by the total sample of Ninth Federal Reserve District cities for July increased 22 per cent from a year ago. The cumulative total for the 12 months through July 1968 indicated a 13 per cent increase from the previous 12 month period.

The bank debits for key Upper Peninsula cities shows Marquette leading with a cumulative volume of $220,149,000 January through July 6, up 9 per cent.

Escanaba was second for the period with $168,415,000 also up 9 per cent; Iron Mountain was third with $138,670,000 up 21 per cent; and Sault Ste. Marie was fourth with $112,472,000 up 9 per cent.

Other cities included Manistique $41,891,000 for a gain of 11 per cent; Gladstone $22,057,000 up 22 per cent; and Hermansville $7,038,000 up 4 per cent.

Report Prague Coup Deposes Dubcek Clique

tank, but it was not known how the incident occurred.

Prague Radio at one point said shooting outside the radio building was gaining in intensity and that "cannon firing" could be heard.

It broadcast an unconfirmed report that Cestmir Cisar, chairman of the Czechoslovak National Council, "has been deported by three unknown men to an unknown destination."

The Czechoslovak news agency CTK said "sounds of shooting were heard in the building of CTK. . . It seems to come from automatic rifles." It later reported that occupying troops were entering the Prague Radio building.

The presidium of the Czechoslovak Communist party issued a statement saying the invasion was considered "as running counter not only to all principles of relations between Socialist states, but also as a denial of the basic norms of international law."

Ask Withdrawal

In a stronger statement to the leaders of the five invading nations, the presidium of the Czechoslovak Parliament said: "We ask you most resolutely at the moment when shots are heard in the streets of Prague to immediately order the withdrawal of all troops."

In a special edition, the Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo said, "We are convinced the measures of the allied armies are a result of bad information of the other Socialist countries on our true internal situation."

It expressed full support for party chief Alexander Dubcek. The editor-in chief of Rude Pravo is presidium member Oldrich Svestka, who is regarded as an orthodox Communist although he recently rejected that label.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said the invasion came at the request of Czechoslovak government and the Communist party leaders who asked Moscow for help against "the threat to the Socialist system." It did not name the leaders.

Claim Help Asked

Tass said the occupying troops would be "withdrawn as soon as the threat against socialism in Czechoslovakia ends."

The East German news agency ADN said that "personalities" in Czechoslovakia "who are faithful to socialism" had started to fight openly against counterrevolutionary activities and had asked other Warsaw Pact countries for "any help, including military aid."

Prague Radio said the Soviet bloc troops crossed into Czechoslovakia "without the knowledge of the president of the republic, the chairman of the National Assembly, the premier or the first secretary of the Czechoslovak Communist party Central Committee."

It appealed to all citizens to "maintain calm and not to offer resistance to troops on the march."

U.S. Force In Europe At Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet troop movement into Czechoslovakia comes at a time when the U.S. 7th Army, backbone of West Europe's defense, is at its lowest strength in years.

Because of the balance of payments problem, U.S. Army forces in West Germany have been cut to about 200,000 men and are due to drop even further by Sept. 30.

By contrast, the U.S. Army had about 273,000 soldiers arrayed along the Iron Curtain during the Berlin crisis of 1961.

U.S, tactical air strength also has been cut to ease the gold-dollar drain and to beef up U.S. air power elsewhere. The Air Force's tactical fighter strength in West Germany is down to five squadrons.

Because of this—and even more because the United States has about 543,000 men pinned down in the Vietnam war—the last problem U.S. military leaders wish to face at this time is a crisis in Europe.

The attitude of U.S. military men throughout the period of Russian threats against Czechoslovakia this summer could be summed up in this sentence: "Leave us out; we have enough problems of our own."

The United States has no military commitment to Czechoslovakia, nor does it have even an implied moral commitment to that Communist country which in the past has been as hostile to the United States as any other East European Communist state.

Slight Injuries Result In Crash

Carmel Richer, 56, of Rte. 2, Bark River, suffered minor injuries in a two-car accident Tuesday about 4:10 p. m. on U. S. 2 just east of the Ford River Bridge.

Officers said she had stopped her car waiting for the car in front to make a turn when her car was struck in the rear by a car driven by Lawrence Erickson, 21, also of Rte. 2, Bark River. Erickson was ticketed for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Troopers also reported that a car driven by Robert Olson, 30, Rte. 2, Bark River, struck a deer on County Road 513 in Bay de Noc Township and that traffic summonses were issued to Mike Constantino, Brampton, no insurance, and James Barron, Rte. 1, Gladstone, defective exhaust.

Boys' Mishaps Exceeds Girls, Druggists Learn

The accident rate among boys is slightly higher than girls, especially when they spend more time outdoors. According to the National Safety Council, the boys suffer more serious injuries than girls. Young ladies, however, experience more frequent scratches, abrasions and minor cuts than their male contemporaries.

Parents are cautioned to remind youngsters that an open wound of any kind is easily subject to infection. The back-to-school season is a most important period to bear this in mind, because games of sport as well as play generally produce a generous share of scrapes, bumps and lumps.

Antibiotic makers suggest that children be instructed frequently that any open wound, no matter how small, be treated at once to help prevent infection. The risk of infection increases the longer a wound goes untreated. A major offender in this area is usually the adolescent boy, who thinks it is "manly" to dismiss wounds lightly.

Recommended treatment for minor cuts and bruises is to rinse under running water, then apply mild antiseptic or antibiotic ointment, which doesn't sting or stain. Before giving first aid, be sure to wash your own hands thoroughly. And never treat a swollen, or "hot" infection without consulting a physician!

GLADSTONE

Gladstone Man Seriously Hurt

WOOD, Wis.—A Gladstone man who was injured over a week ago remains in "serious" condition at Wood Veteran's Hospital where he underwent surgery Saturday.

Torval Anderson, 513 N. 11th St., is a patient in the intensive care unit of the hospital.

Dr. Alex Locke, a resident physician at the hospital, said Anderson has not regained consciousness.

Anderson was transferred to Wood Veteran's Hospital by ambulance from St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, last Friday, where he had been taken after his mother discovered him lying unconscious in the back yard of the family home about 3:15 a. m. Sunday, Aug. 11.

Gladstone police are investigating, but Chief James Norick said Tuesday that no evidence of foul play has been uncovered. Officers have not been able to talk to Anderson.

Dr. Locke said Anderson's injuries include bleeding inside his head and a blood clot.

Neither Dr. Locke or Dr. [illegible]arl [illegible] of Gladstone, who treated Anderson initially at St. Francis, was able to determine exactly how Anderson might have been injured. Both doctors said that the type of injury could have been sustained either in a fall or in a beating.

Norick said Anderson, who is between 40 and 50 years old, was discovered by his mother, Mrs. Axel Anderson, when she got up to answer the telephone. There was no party on the line when she answered, Norick reported.

When Mrs. Anderson found her son injured, she summoned police. Anderson was taken to St. Francis by ambulance.

Anderson had been at a wedding reception in Gladstone on Saturday night, Aug. 10, apparently leaving about 1:30 a. m., Norick said. Police are investigating the possibility that he could have been assaulted between the time he left the reception and the time he was discovered injured.

Dowagiac City Officials Man Fire Department

DOWAGIAC (AP)—If you live in Dowagiac and your house catches on fire chances are you'll see City Manager Milton Mitchell manning a fire hose.

The trouble began Aug. 12. when the city's nine firemen submitted their resignations after the city passed a proposal to combine the police and fire departments. Object of the proposal was to save money by cross-training the personnel.

Tuesday the city council refused to acknowledge the withdrawal of six of the firemen's resignations, thereby leaving the Cass County city of 7,200 without a fire department.

Mitchell said he would help temporarily man the fire department, along with the city assessor and the manager of the city's municipal facilities, He said in case of a fire the man on duty would notify six volunteers.

Lee Alwarden Now Retired

Lee Alwarden

Lee Alwarden, 1501 Minnesota Ave., retired on Monday after 42 years of service with the Soo Line Railroad. Alwarden made his last trip returning from Rhinelander Saturday.

Born in Bellaire, Mich., in 1903, Alwarden came to Gladstone in 1924 to visit his aunt, the late Mrs. Minnie Payne, and liked it so well he found work at the old Buckeye plant and made his home here. In 1925 he married the former Czarina Brassick and in 1926 be began working at the Soo Line Round House. He was promoted to a fireman in 1927.

The Alwardens have two children, Mrs. Orson (Doreen) Livermore of Gladstone and Mrs. Robert (Ragena) Peterson of Phoenix, Ariz., and nine grandchildren.

One of the experiences Alwarden will never forget is the wreck of two Soo Line trains at Cavour, Wis., in 1952 which resulted in the death of the engineer, Fred LeGault. Alwarden received severe head injuries which required 40 stitches but he says he survived the crash because he remained conscious when he was thrown into the water after the collision.

The Alwardens plan to remain in Gladstone and take it easy for the time being.

Capsules Retell Recent History

The coming of September brings a sad lament from some youngsters, an evicted cheer from hundreds of thousands of others, but for all students, it's a mass return to the hushed libraries and their endless rows of books . . . those all too often monotonous manuscripts, weighty tomes, doubtful digests, historic compilations, limitless encyclopedias, and plain, old everyday textbooks.

At one time or another, we've all had to wade through several volumes just to find a single fact from the past and while this is great for bibliophiles, it can be trying to a busy student with a heavy schedule.

Now, however, frustrating library searchers can be cut down and you can find a fantastic number and variety of facts in a flash with a new series of books called Time Capsules. Each of these quality paperback volumes, recently published by Time-Life Books, is a condensation of the 52 issues of Time magazine for one particular year, and includes newsworthy events of that year, as they were reported in the magazine's various sections.

Untouched by years of analysis and opinions, the facts are taken from a story exactly as it was written at the time it happened — giving a student not only the details of an incident but the feeling, flavor and flair of its times — making "history" so absorbing that it becomes fascinating fun.

Whatever the interest or course of study of the student, Time Capsules cover it: national affairs, foreign news, books, art, theater, cinema, music, education, religion, medicine, law, science, business, sports, and radio and television are included in 15 volumes published so far. The entire library, currently from 1923 (when the magazine first appeared) through selected memorable years until 1956, takes only a few inches of space—a boon to the traveling back-to-schooler.

Only albinos and rabbits are supposed to have pink eyes. However, eye st[illegible] [illegible]eryone from time to time, producing a rabbity [illegible] add to attractiveness. Red, irritated eyes are caused by many factors, such as late hours, overuse of eyes, outdoor glare or smog, and distance driving. McLain's Torn Arm Muscle Really Muscle Irritation

DETROIT (AP) — What 25-game winner Denny McLain means by a torn muscle in his right shoulder is really a minor irritation of the trapezius muscle that he's had for several years.

The Detroit Tigers ace, who was bombed with nine hits and nine runs — seven unearned — in a 10-2 loss to Chicago Tuesday night, said he didn't really mean he had a torn muscle in his pitching arm.

"What I mean by that is it's strained," said the 24-year-old pitcher. "It's something I've had for two or three years. But I can still pitch every four days."

Dr. Russell Wright, the Detroit team physician, says "Denny is just built abnormally. His right side overpowers his left. So after he pitches a game the muscle on the right shoulder gets dragged too far over into the bones in his neck.

"That's what's causing the pain and discomfort. It's a problem he's had as long as he's been with the team, and I wouldn't say there's any danger of his missing a pitching turn."

Trainer Bill Behm said the 24-year-old McLain has complained his arm was tired the last four or five times he pitched, including a shutout of the Boston Red Sox on seven hits.

"We've given him pills to relax the muscle and the day after he pitches either Dr. Wright or myself massage the shoulder and neck for him.

"But it's nothing to make an issue out of. Did he look like a man with a torn muscle against Boston last Friday?"

The "torn muscle" comment was in answer to a published report Tuesday which quoted McLain as saying he had a torn muscle in his shoulder.

McLain wasn't available for comment in Detroit before his scheduled pitching of the second game of a twi-night doubleheader against the Chicago White Sox.

Manager Mayo Smith said McLain had never mentioned anything to him about a torn muscle, "and I think he would have if the muscle were actually torn."

Dr. Wright and Behm said they'd never heard anything about a torn muscle and discounted the report, with Wright adding: "I guess it's just the over-development of his right side he's talking about."

"You know how Denny gets sometimes when he starts talking to reporters," was another comment from an obviously irritated Manager Smith.

McLain is snooting for a 30-game winning season with the American League-Leading Tigers and, if he makes it, he would be the first in baseball since Dizzy Dean in 1934.

Before his White Sox start Tuesday night he was 25-3, had pitched 22 complete games in 31 starts and gone a total of 253 1-3 innings. He hopes for another 10 or 11 starts before the season ends.

DENNY McLAIN, Detroit Tiger pitching star, also is an expert at the organ. Combining the two talents, he could earn over $100,000 next year making appearances and endorsements. (AP Wirephoto)

Tiger Tales

DETROIT (AP) — Notes & quotes:

Norm Cash credits his hitting streak to a new batting stance he began using July 20.

"I just stumbled onto it one day," said Cash, who has been hitting at better than a .320 clip since the All-Star game. "I guess that's how I used to hit and forgot."

Dick McAuliffe sat out the second game of the twinbill with Chicago with a stomach disorder.

"It's one of those viruses that's going around," said Manager Mayo Smith. "He was sick before the first game. He'll be okay i na couple of days."

Mickey Lolich will get another starting assignment in the final game of the series on Thursday night. Asked if that means Lolich is out of the bullpen after three straight wins in relief, Manager Mayo Smith replied: "No. That just means he's starting Thursday."

Swoboda Has Swinging Time In Giant Contest

By The Associated Press

Dapper Ron Swoboda, the mod Met, had a swinging time against the San Francisco Giants.

Swoboda, who occasionally acentuates his lengthy sideburns with a set of love beads, displayed great affection for Giant pitching Tuesday night, driving in five runs in New York's 8-0 victory over San Francisco.

The splurge included a three-run eighth-inning homer—Swoboda's first in almost a month—and helped Tom Seaver win his 11th game.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday, Philadelphia bombed St. Louis 8-2, Pittsburgh rapped Cincinnati 8-3, Houston outlast Los Angeles 8-5 and Chicago took Atlanta 6-5 in 10 innings.

Swoboda, who had struck out three times in 17 frustrating innings as the Mets lost 1-0 the night before, made up for it Tuesday.

He drove in a run with a fielder's choice grounder in the third inning, singled another across in the fifth and climaxed a four-run Met rally in the eighth with his 11th home run of the year.

It was his first homer since July 23 and only his fourth since the end of April.

Seaver worked six innings, allowing four hits, before wilting in the Shea Stadium heat. Cal Koonce finished up.

Larry Dierker, who hasn't lost a game in two months, ran his record to 12-10 as the Astros hopped on Don Drysdale and defeated the Dodgers.

Rusty Staub drove in three runs with a double and a sacrifice fly and Danny Coombs extinguished a ninth-inning Dodger rally, preserving Dkerker's sixth consecutive victory.

Cookie Rojas and Clay Dalrympe hit home runs and the Phillies clawed the Cardinals, ending Nelson Briles' five-game winning streak.

Briles retired the first two batters in the first inning and then two walks, four hits and an error cost him four runs. Rich Allen doubled one across and singles by Bill White and Gary Sutherland produced two of the others.

Rojas hit a solo homer in the second and Dalrymple connected with one man on in the third.

Matty Alou tagged three hits, drove in two runs and scored a pair as Pittsburgh ended Cincinnati's seven-game winning streak.

Alou's three hits boosted his average to .333, 10 points behind NL leader Pete Rose, who had 1-for-4. R[illegible]'s ninth-inning triple ext[illegible] his batting streak to 10 g[illegible].

Bill Mazeroski drove in three Pirate runs with a single and a triple and Tony Perez had a two-run homer for the Reds.

Willie Smith's second home run of the game gave Chicago its 10-inning victory over Atlanta. Smith, who had a three-run shot in the first inning, connected with two out in the 10th after the Cubs had tied the game on a pair of errors and Glenn Beckert's sacrifice fly in the ninth.

Pitcher Phil Niekro had a three-run homer for the Braves and his kid brother, Joe, was Chicago's winning pitcher in relief.

Giles Absolves Regan In Illegal Pitch War

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs and relief ace Phil Regan are satisfied, but National League President Warren Giles might have picked up a king sized headache over the illegal pitch incident.

Giles met with Durocher, Regan and John Holland, vice president of the Cubs, Tuesday and then issued a statement absolving Regan of any wrong doing in Sunday's hassle over illegal pitches.

Umpire Chris Pelekoudas called illegal pitches on Regan during the first game of a doubleheader with Cincinnati. Pelekoudas said he couldn't find any evidence on the ball but he was sure a foreign substance was being used by Regan after seeing the flight of the ball.

"A sinker spins when it breaks," said Pelekoudas. "And a ball with Vaseline on it breaks down without a spin."

Durocher and two other Cubs were thrown out of the game following heated arguments, and Regan had his head, face and the sweat band of his cap wiped off by Umpire Shag Crawford.

The Cube demanded a hearing.

Giles, in absolving the former Detroit Tiger pitcher, said "I know Phil and have respect for him and felt a gentleman like he should be shown the consideration and courtesy of hearing him.

"Phil told me he did not have Vaseline or other lubricant on his sweat band and I believe him," said Giles.

"Chris Pelekoudas suspected he did have lubricant of some kind, but told me his judgment of an illegal pitch was based almost entirely on the action on the ball in flight, and seems convinced it acted like a so-called spit ball."

"This is a most difficult problem for the umpires and they are being urged on all sides to enforce violators of illegal pitches."

Giles said he would talk to the Crawford umpiring crew when the umpires arrive in Cincinnati later this week. The other members of the crew are Doug Harvey and John Kibler.

Giles said he would confer with them and other umpiring crews as to "how is the best way to handle this perplexing problem—uniformity in enforcement is very desirable."

The problem is: Can an umpire tell if a pitch is illegal from the flight of the ball?

"Some of the umpires say they can," said Giles. "Durocher says they can't and so does Regan. As for myself, I'm not experienced enough to know. Maybe we can reach some decision in four or five days."

Former British Champ Triumphs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Middleweight Gomeo Brenanan, former Bimini boxer now of Miami, pounded out a 10-round split decision over Miami's Linus Johnson Tuesday night.

Brennan, former British Empire middleweight champion, was making his 95th start and won his 72nd bout. In the fifth and seventh rounds he caught Johnson with an overhand right and her him in serious trouble.

Johnson managed to weather both rounds and came out of each difficulty in a strong fashion.

Packers Look For Answer To 2-Game Losing Streak

By The Associated Press

The world champion Green Bay Packers were looking for the reasons they've lost two consecutive exhibition games after opening the season with a decision over the College All-Stars.

"I don't know what the real answer is, dut we have several ideas," rookie coach Phil Bengtson said Tuesday after viewing films of Monday's 10-7 loss to the Chicago Bears.

"We weren't alert," he said.

"So far, we've been lacking that spark.

"Our running game hasn't got going yet."

And while he was going over his problems, the man who replaced Vince Lombardi as coach looked ahead to Saturday, when the Packers travel to Dallas to play the Cowboys.

"Oh, boy!" he said. "I guess they've been waiting for us ever since we beat them in the title game."

In Florida, the Miami Dolphins, several of them on the mend from a mild attack of flu, went back to work today in preparation for Friday's exhibition game with Boston.

Coach George Wilson cut the Dolphins' practice to 50 minutes Tuesday when several players, including flanker Howard Twilley and center Tom Goode, said they weren't feeling well.

Barring further illness, Wilson said 47 players would make the trip to Jacksonville for the game with Boston.

And it might take an epidemic to ruin their chances. Boston, as usual, has yet to win in two exhibtion outings and has a total of only six points to show for games against New Orleans and the New York Jets.

In fact, Boston has pro football's over-all worst record in preseason play, with coach Mike Holovak using those games for experiments with personnel.

Wilson said he expected to use quarterback Kim Hammond for three quarters, with Bob Griese working the final period.

Boston, meanwhile, placed veteran receiver Jim Colclough on injured waivers. Colclough, a 10-year veteran, has been hampered by a bad back.

Patriot rookie John Outlaw, a promising speedster who was seeking a berth as either a running back or defensive back, also was placed on injured waivers. He will undergo knee surgery today and will be lost to the team for about eight weeks.

Their game is one of four scheduled Friday. The others include another National-American Football League matchup, with San Francisco visiting Denver. Baltimore is at Detroit and Buffalo plays Houston at Tulsa, Okla., in the other.

In other training camp action, Milt Plum, the reserve quarterback acquired by Los Angeles from Detroit, was named to start the Rams' Saturday game in San Diego.

Coach George Allen said Plum will work the first half with regular Roman Gabriel playing the last half.

Dean Predicts McLain To Get 32 Mound Wins

DETROIT (AP)—Dizzy Dean, last 30-game winner in the major leagues, predicts 24-year-old Detroit Tiger righthander Denny McLain will win 32 games this year.

The 57-year-old former ace of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League gave his opinions of McLain via telephone from his home in Wiggins, Miss. He was interviewed by Watson Spoelstra of the Detroit News.

"He'll win more than 30," Dean said, "Right now I'm saying 32."

McLain's record was already 25-3 before Tuesday night's game against the Chicago White Sox.

Dean posted a 30-7 record in 1934 with the Cardinals and St. Louis went on to beat Detroit four games to three in the World Series.

He said McLain is winning his games with his fast ball. "The good old fast ball still is the best pitch in baseball," Dean said, "everybody doesn't have it."

Dizzy, who had the same uniform number as Denny has now (17), said he only made $7,500 in 1934 and only $18,500 the next year. McLain, who reportedly gets $30,000 this seashould get $100,000 next year, Dean said. "He's worth every dime of it," he added, I never made more than $25,000, but it was a different dollar. They let you keep some of it."

"I've been talking about being there the day he wins 30," Dean said.

But McLain isn't the whole show, according to Dean.

The Tigers have "a good ball club," he said, "they're solid. They're not going to fold, no sirree."

Angels Thrash Orioles With One-Hit Pitching

By The Associated Press

As far as the Detroit Tigers are concerned, those Californians are Angels, indeed.

Angel pitchers Rick Clark and Clyde Wright collaborated on a one - hitter Tuesday night as California thrashed Baltimore 7-2 while the Tigers split a pair with Chicago to increase their league lead to seven games over the second-place Orioles.

Clark was touched for a run-scoring single by Mark Belanger in the Orioles' two-run third before Wright came out of the bullpen and hurled hitless ball the rest of the way to gain his eighth victory against three defeats.

Jim Fregosi's three-run double climaxed the Angels' decisive uprising in the fourth, which wiped out a 2-1 deficit.

Don Mincher, who had walked, was aboard with two out when the Angels erupted against Tom Phoebus, 13-12. Winston Llenas walked and Bobby Knoop tied the game with a single.

Phoebus also walked Wright and Ed Kirkpatrick, forcing on the go-ahead run, and Fregosi greeted reliever Gene Brabender with a double to left center, clearing the bases.

Wright's run-scoring single in the eighth completed the California attack.

In other American League games, the New York Yankees beat Minnesota 5-0 behind Mel Stottlemyre, Cleveland nipped Boston 2-1 for Sam McDowell and Oakland divided a twin bill with Washington, taking the nightcap 4-3 on Danny Cater's ninth inning homer after a 7-5 loss.

Stottlemyre flipped a four-hitter and Andy Kosco drove in three runs with a single and his 13th homer, leading the Yankees past the Twins.

Stottlemyre, 16-10, permitted only one runner to reach second on the way to his sixth shutout.

Jose Cardenal's triple and a pinch single by Russ Snyder in the eighth carried the Indians past Boston. McCowell, 13-10, scattered four hits, including a homer by George Scott, and fanned seven to regain the major league strikeout lead with a total of 229.

Cater broke up the nightcap at Oakland by slamming Bob Humphreys' first delivery in the ninth over the left field fence. Brant Alyea's three-run pinch homer in the eighth had lifted the Senators into a 3-3 deadlock.

Del Unser led off the twilight game with his first homer in the majors, then poked four singles to pace the Senators' 12-hit attack. Mike Epstein homered and Paul Casanova drilled a two-run single for Washington.

Smith's 32 Paces Highland Golfers

Twilight league golfers at the Highland really burned up the course last evening, as no less than fifteen scored rounds of 40 and below. Jack Smith's blazing 32 set the pace as he birdied Nos. 2, 3, and 4 to finish three under par for the round.

Other low scores were shot by Ward Steimert 35, Jim Douglas 37, Don Leonard, Warren Stanchina, Con Pratt, Pinky Burnell, John Duca, Barney Barnhart and Dave Erickson 38, Dave Friets and Earl Koch 39, and Ron Sharkey, Vial Smith and Mike Eugate 40.

With only one week remaining for league play, there is a battle royal for the top spot. The Doug's Dubbers clung to their narrow lead to set the pace, while the Free Swingers are one point back. Tight on their heels in third place is the Bogey Men at 95 points. Still with an outside chance are Con's Clubbers with 90 points, while the Super Valus appear to have nailed down the fifth place spot with 84½ points.

Other teams in order are Barney's Beavers 75, Has Beens 72½, W. R.'s 72, Hackers 71, Divot Diggers 69, Smitty's Smackers 67, Dave's Dandies 64, 7-Dwarfs 58½ and Ding-a-Lings 48.

Don Leonard appears to have the individual scoring race wrapped up as he has scored an amazing 23 out of a possible 24 points so far this season. Prizes are also awarded to the top point getters on each team.

Tigers Get Twinbill Split; McLain Fails

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain, the first sore-shouldered right-hander in baseball history to win 25 games, wasn't very upset by the four errors that carried the Chicago White Sox to a 10-2 victory over Detroit in the second game of a twi-night doubleheader Tuesday.

Two of the errors were by normally sure-handed Al Kaline and seven of the nine runs off McLain were unearned. John Hiller pitched a one-hit shutout as the Tigers won the opener 7-0.

"This time they make a few errors," said McLain afterwards. "Twenty-five other times they never threw anything away."

McLain, 25-4, was pounded for nine runs and nine hits in 5 2-3 innings, including a grand slam homer by Pete Ward and four hits by Gerry McNertney, who drove in four runs.

"I had so little I couldn't even finesse that ball," said McLain. "I threw as hard as I have all year in Boston last week. Tonight I couldn't make a pitch."

The split left Detroit seven games ahead of second - place Baltimore as the Orioles lost to California 7-2.

The Tigers and the White Sox meet again tonight with Mickey Lolich 10-7, pitching for Detroit against Chicago's Cisco Carlos, 4-11.

What McLain didn't have, Heller had. The only hit off the 26-year-old left-hander was Ron Hansen's leadoff single in the fifth. A walk and an error loaded the bases with nobody out, but Hiller got out of the jam without giving up a run.

It was a year ago Tuesday that Hiller got his first chance to start for the Tigers and he responded with a shutout. His wife, Janice, hasn't seen any of her husband's starting assignments.

"It was my wife's birthday," explained Hiller. "I took her on a boat trip and bought her a dozen roses. But she never comes when I start.

"It's just a superstitution. It goes back to when I was a kid and I couldn't pitch in front of my parents. The last time my wife saw me start a game I got bombed."

Gates Brown, filling in for While Horton in the opener had a homer and a run-scoring single to start Detroit on the road to victory.

Another run scored when Norm Cash hit into a doubleplay and Mickey Stanley drove in two runs in the three - run seventh with a bases - loaded single. Hiller aided his own cause with a run - scoring single in the same inning and Ray Oyler drove in his first run since July 13th with an infield grounder.

In the nightcap, southpaw Gary Peters, staked to a commanding early lead, checked the Tigers on four hits, bringing his season mark to 4-10.

Ward started the Chicago assault when he doubled in the first inning, took third on Kaline's throwing error and scored when McLain picked up the ball and threw wildly to the plate.

Kaline dropped Ken Berry's fly ball in the second and McNertney sent Berry home with a double. McNertney slammed a two - run single in the fourth and drove in another run with a single in the sixth after Ray Oyler's boot opened the gates for a five-run Chicago inning.

Infield hits by Luis Aparicio and Alomar filled the bases and Ward unloaded his 13th homer, knocking McLain from the mound for only the second time this year.

The White Sox added a run off Fred Lasher in the eighth on McNertney's fourth hit, an infield grounder and Alomar's single.

Mrs. Thomas X. Gatlin (Mincoff Photo)

Lynn Schuster And Thomas Gatlin Wed

Lynn Elizabeth Schuster wore a gown of ivory organza with a center panel of re-embroidered alencon lace when she approached the center altar of the St. Francis de Sales Church on the arm of her father for her Aug. 17 marriage to Thomas Xavier Gatlin, Jr., of Chicago.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis M. Scheringer officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony with the bride's sister Mrs. David Townsend of Lansing, as matron of honor and Mrs. Jon N. Schuster of St. Joseph, sister-in-law of the bride, as bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Otmer J. Schuster, 544 Michigan Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas X. Gatlin, Sr., 3605 N. Newcastle Ave., Chicago, are the parents of the couple.

The bride's dress was a fashioned satin peau - de - soie sheath with the neckline, hem, and sleeves bonded with alencon lace. Her detachable train was of organza with scattered alencon lace appliques and her four-tiered headpiece was secured by an elbow-length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of mixed daisies and steptonotis fashioned with lace streamers.

Attendants In Blue

The attendants wore smoked blue crepe floor length gowns with bodice bands of verigated embroidery and carried tinted baskets of daisies.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schuster chose a one-piece mint green pure silk sheath dress accented with a jeweled neckline and taupe accessories. Mrs. Gatlin wore an aqua blue coat-dress with beaded trim neckline and blue accessories. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carlson of Gladstone, grandmother of the bride, was a special guest of honor during the wedding festivities and was presented with a corsage of pink carnations.

Christine Mathson was organist during the church ceremony and accompanied David M. Townsend, brother-in-law of the bride, when he rendered a clarinet solo, "Trios Pieces" by Rene de Boisdeffre.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Dennis P. Gatlin of Chicago as bestman, with Jon N. Schuster, David M. Townsend, and William Walker of Middlebury, Va., as ushers.

Dinner At Surf

The couple accepted congratulations from friends and relatives following the ceremony at the Surf where a sit-down dinner was served. A four-tier bride's cake, made by Mrs. Arthur Mattlin, was decorated in bridal theme and served from a skirted circular table. Silver candelbra and white tapers with sprays of varigated ivy and daisies in individual crystal holders pinned to the skirt completed the table decorations. The couple left for a two week honeymoon to Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons and will be at home in DeKalb, Ill., upon their return.

The new Mrs. Gatlin is a 1961 graduate of Manistique High School and earned her R.N. in nursing at Presbyterian St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in Chicago.

Mr. Gatlin attended DePaul Academy, Chicago and received his B.A. from Parson's College, Fairfield, Iowa, where he was a member of the Omicron Honor Society. He is presently working on his M.A. in the graduate School of Business Administration at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

Cost Hampers School Choice

BAY CITY (AP) — William A. Groening, general counsel of Dow Chemical Co., told the Joint Legislative Committee on Nonpublic Schools today that public schools will suffer if parochial schools reach a point financially where they cannot continue to operate.

Groening, also chairman of the Board of Saginaw Valley State College, emphasized he was speaking only as a private, concerned citizen.

"More and more parents," he said, "are being priced out of the nonpublic school market and, therefore, are unable to exexercise a meaningful free choice.

"The cost factor in nonpublic schools is placing in jeopardy the whole system of a free educational market - place of ideas and innovation simply because the right to choose is being diminished, which reduces competition, which in turn ultimately reduces quality of education."

The Saginaw Valley board, he reported, is giving serious thought to structuring the campus in a way that will allow for private church - related colleges to be located on the campus.

Briefly Told

Manistique Area Board of Education will hold a special meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. to discuss the 1968-69 school calendar and to review and possibly revise school policy. The Board will meet in Room 103 of the high school.

1968 Is Year Of The Coho

To Michigan anglers 1968 is the "Year of the Coho."

Trophy - hungry fishermen first have to locate that big one. The most likely place to find a record-size salmon is Lake Michigan.

Coho generally run smaller in Lake Superior than in sister lakes because of the very cold water and less abundant food supply. Trophy-size coho will not begin to appear in Lake Huron until fall, 1969.

Detailed mapping of coho movements is not now possible since the salmon is new to Michigan waters.

The accompanying Michigan Auto Club map shows where fishing is expected to be best and what rivers and streams have been stocked.

Coho can be found where there is an ample supply of food and the water temperature ranges between 52 and 57 degrees. They feed on alewives in Lakes Michigan and Huron and smelt and herring in Lake Superior.

Feed On Alewives

It was the vast winter movements of alewives to southern Lake Michigan that attracted the salmon to the Chicago shore. Even in late April, schools of coho were near Chicago.

In May, the coho began moving along the Michigan as well as Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin shorelines. By mid-June, the coho moved north to Grand Haven.

From now until late September, the largest concentration of coho in Lake Michigan will be found off the mouths of streams where the now giant salmon were first released as smolts by the Conservation Department in Spring, 1967.

Prior to spawning runs, coho are found where their food supply is best.

Except for a possible jack run in the lower Au Sable, the Conservation Department expects minor coho activity in Lake Huron this fall. Smolts were released into five Lake Huron streams this Spring, and mature fish from this planting cannot be expected until next fall. Besides the Au Sable, plantings were made in the Ocqueoc, Thunder Bay, Tawas rivers and in the Upper Peninsula, the Carp River.

Lake Huron Salmon

Lake Huron salmon will concentrate as far south as Saginaw Bay beginning in May of 1969. Next July and August they are expected to divide into schools and mass for fall spawning in the rivers where they were planted.

Coho enthusiasts can expect spotty catches in Lake Superior late this summer and early this fall.

This is because smelt, the coho's main diet, are in deep water after spring spawning, and the coho follow. Also, unlike Lakes Michigan and Huron, Lake Superior water is cold and coho feed is less abundant. These two factors are responsible for the coho running smaller in size here than in Lake Michigan.

Coho were planted for the first time last spring in the following areas: West Michigan (Lake Michigan)—Big Manistee, Boardman, Whitefish, Pere Marquette, Bear, Boyne and Muskegon rivers; East Michigan (Lake Huron)—Au Sable, Thunder Bay, Ocqueoc, Tawas and Carp rivers; Upper Peninsula (Lake Superior)—Anna, Falls, Ontonagon and Sucker rivers and Cherry Creek.

Top Fishing

As a result of this year's coho plantings, there should be top fishing by the fall of 1969 in the Ontonagon area, at Keweenaw Bay, Marquette Bay, Munising Bay, Little Bay de Noc, St. Martin Bay, Little Traverse Bay, the Charlevoix area, Grand Traverse Bay, Platte Bay, the Manistee and Arcadia areas as well as at Ludington, Muskegon, Thunder Bay and Tawas Bay.

In addition to the coho, Michigan anglers will be catching a new kind of salmon from now on called the chinook.

The first planting of chinook —or king salmon from the Pacific Ocean—was spring, 1967. Streams stocked with chinook were Lake Michigan's Muskegon and Little Manistee rivers and Lake Superior's Huron River.

Chinook were released earlier this year in Lake Michigan's Little Manistee and Muskegon rivers, Lake Huron's Thunder Bay River and in Lake Superior's Cherry Creek.

In the future, there is no telling where the prime runs will occur. The Michigan Conservation Department is planning a near future hatchery output of 30 million salmon annually for streams in northern and southern Michigan.

Suspect Kidnap; Post Reward For Missing Woman

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — The family of a wealthy Detroit area builder has offered a $25,000 reward for the return of Judy Ruggirello, 29, a member of the family who has been missing for two days.

Police said Mrs. Ruggirello was reported missing shortly after midnight Sunday by her husband Anthony. Officers found her car behind a Detroit restaurant which was recently gutted by fire.

Investigating officers were not available for comment.

Mrs. Ruggirello is the daughter of the late A. J. Gargaro, a contractor.

Her sister, Mrs. Sue Curbelo of Southfield, said she thinks she must have been kidnaped.

There were no signs of a struggle in the house, but Mrs. Curbelo said "she wouldn't go without a fight unless she were forced at gunpoint."

Electric Storm Explodes Oil Tank

LAKEVIEW (AP) — An oil storage tank exploded on Tuesday during an electrical storm, shaking houses in the Montcalm County area, sending metal fragments as far as 600 feet from the tank and setting fire to four other storage tanks. No injuries were reported.

Damage was estimated at $8,000 by the tank farm owner, Fred Stewart, who owns seven wells in the area. Stewart said the tanks, with a combined capacity of 1,350 barrels, recently had been emptied and held a total of 250 barrels of oil at the time.

Halt Bombing, Says Computer

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Michigan State University professor who has analyzed the Vietnam war by computer says U. S. policymakers would be more likely to achieve a negotiated settlement by de-escalating the bombing of North Vietnam.

Jeffrey Milstein, an assistant professor of political science, said the bombing de-escalation would also be more likely to lessen the rate of Communist troop commitments in South Vietnam.

Milstein said he did a systematic computer analysis and simulation of the war's progress from January, 1965 to December 1967 at Stanford University in cooperation with William Mitchell, a computer scientist.

He said he found, among other things, that both sides seem to lack "an adequate understanding of the dynamics of the war."

The MSU professor said his research indicates "escalation of the bombing provokes a subsequent counter-escalation of North Vietnamese troop commitments. This buildup leads to increased U. S. troops in South Vietnam, which results in more casualties on both sides."

Reds May Build Space Stations

VIENNA (AP) — A Soviet space scientist has hinted that instead of building a new super-rocket, the Russians may be concentrating on sending up small rockets to form "large cosmic stations" in orbit. The cosmic stations could be used as a springboard to the moon.

Dr. B. V. Raushenbakh, in a report to the U.N. Conference on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space, said small unmanned rockets are less expensive and risky than superrockets.

American space officials reported recently that the Soviet Union may be developing a rocket more powerful than the United States' 36-story-tall Saturn 5, the largest booster ever launched. The Saturn 5 has placed 140-ton satellites in earth orbit.

But in a report on two unmanned Soviet space docking missions, Raushenbakh hinted that a new rocket is not in the Soviet plans.

He said there were two basic methods of placing heavy satellites in orbit.

"Either it is possible to make more and more powerful carrier rockets, or to put into orbit heavy satellites in parts, using comparatively small carriers, and then to assemble the required structure in the cosmos from the separate parts," he said.

Fight Income Tax With 'Brown Bag'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The 187,000 workers who face a new one per cent income tax because they commute to San Francisco daily were asked to join a retailatory "brown bag" campaign.

Starting Friday, Sept. 6, and each Friday thereafter commuters were urged to bring their own lunch in a "brown bag," rather than buy it.

Supervisors from Alameda, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties agreed to support such a move which they estimated could mean a $14 million annual business loss to San Francisco food purveyors.

San Francisco expects the commuter tax will bring in $12.7 million in revenue every year.

Hearing of the "brown bag" campaign, San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alito, who proposed the new tax, said: "Tell one of them to bring a smoked salmon on french for me."

Dow Official To Head Tech Board

HOUGHTON—Dr. David H. Morgan of Midland has been elected chairman of the Michigan Technological University Board of Control. Director of college relations for the Dow Chemical Co., he has been a member of the board since January, 1964. He suceeds W. H. Doerfner of Saginaw.

Julius J. Harwood of Oak Park was elected vice chairman. Harwood, manager of the metallurgy department of the Ford Motor Co., Dearborn, was appointed to the board in October, 1966.

The board gave formal approval to $11,588,412 operating budget for the 1968-69 academic year; $9,756,000 for Michigan Tech and $1,832,412 for Lake Superior State College, a combined increase of $1,171,814.

Darrell Joque To Get Tech Degree

Michigan Technological University will award 115 degrees during the annual summer commencement exercises August 23.

Delivering the commencement address will be Jack G. Real, a Michigan Upper Peninsula native, and Michigan Tech graduate who is vice president of the Lockheed-California Company, Burbank, Cal.

Among the candidates for degrees is Darrell T. Joque, B. S. in civil engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Joque, 1220 1st Ave. S., Escanaba, a 1964 graduate of Holy Name High School.

Saloons Replaced By Supermarkets

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP)—Drink holds more people in bondage than slavery did at the start of the Civil War, an official of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union contended here.

Mrs. Mildred B. Harman, legislative representative from Washington, told the WCTU convention at Anderson College, "There were four million Negro slaves in 1861, and a war was fought to liberate them. Today, 10 million or more men and women are in bondage to alcoholism and few raise their voices for their emancipation."

Urging dry forces to be more vocal than ever, Mrs. Harman said their foes were once the saloons but now are the supermarkets. Nearly every home has a swinging door that opens to a liquor supply, she said.

"It seems utterly stupid to spend millions of dollars trying to cure the alcoholics without doing something about the source," Mrs. Harman said.

She called for educating youth on the value of total abstinence and limiting alcoholic beverage advertising or selling.

Forest Fires

Only one forest fire was reported in the Upper Peninsula in the past week. It was in the Newberry District and burned 11 acres on the Kingston Plains north of Shingleton.

Current Events Teaching Explains Baffling News

Engineers move the Empire State Building from New York to Louisville.

Chicago's giant Picasso statue is stolen.

The Brooklyn bridge is finally sold.

A four-ton whale is caught in the Mississippi River.

Highly unlikely occurences, these, but the last year has seen events almost as unlikely and hard to understand. How many parents can explain to their children today's steady stream of unpredictable news? How many parents are sure that the mass media, geared to adult audiences, makes sense to children?

★ ★ ★

One new way now filling this need in thousands of schools is the Weekly News Spotlight program, which this coming fall enters its second year. The program interprets the "man bites dog" type of news and uses news examples to explain the political, social and economic environment in which students are growing up. For example, such subjects as "The President's Cabinet," "Predicting the Results of an Election," "Determining Where Germany Ends," and "United States Representatives Abroad" were covered in the program's first year.

The program provides weekly packets of eight current news articles and illustrations selected, written and edited for students in grades six through twelve. Objectives are to increase student classroom effectiveness and save the teacher hours of pre-class preparation.

The economy and flexibility of the new program appeal to many schools. Teachers convert the information quickly into visual aids and teaching materials. One $34-a-year subscription meets the needs of an entire school, however large.

Each article is on a separate 8½x11-inch page that can be reproduced in classroom quantity on the school's spirit duplicator. The back of each article contains an illustration that can be used to produce a transparency, with aid of a thermal heat imaging unit, for use on an overhead projector during classroom discussion. After the initial use, the article may be filed as a record of world events.

★ ★ ★

A new feature of the program is a page designed to help teachers make the best use of each week's materials. Two weeks a month, the teachers page suggests discussion topics. Another week the page includes a map quiz on geographic locations of news happenings. The fourth week it has a general news quiz, based on topics covered in the preceding month.

The program is available from A. B. Dick Company, Chicago-based manufacturer of duplicating and copying equipment and supplies. It was developed by them in collaboration with The National Observer, a national weekly newspaper.

Business College Opening Sept. 9

The Badger-Green Bay Business College, Green Bay, Wis., will be starting its second century of operation this fall. Badger offers accounting and secretarial programs, drawing its students mainly from the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin. Its 101st fall term begins on Sept. 9.

We're For McCarthy

One national political convention has passed, another soon will begin. The first, at which Richard Nixon was chosen as the Republican nominee for the Presidency, held few surprises. The second, at which Hubert Humphrey will have a commanding lead, will more than likely be just as predictable.

One unpredicted development, however, would be welcome: a change in attitude, a change in direction.

For a change is needed. Not just a change in personalities, nor even a change in policies. What is needed is a change in method, in style, in the way government responds to the governed.

* * *

It is time for government to outgrow old ruts and old policies. It is time for government to become more flexible. It is time for government to establish new priorities.

Who, in the Democratic Party, could best accomplish these changes if he were to win the presidency?

Senator Eugene McCarthy, in our opinion.

Senator McCarthy is a man of refreshing integrity and intelligence. He is not a "normal" political man: he is not a hand-shaker, a baby-kisser nor an Indian headdress-wearer. He is a serious, sophisticated man who thinks — and acts — as if government were indeed a serious, sophisticated business.

* * *

Senator McCarthy is the man who "stood alone" last March in his opposition to the Vietnam war. He is the man who has frankly and forthrightly spoken to the issues. He is the man who brought thousands of disenchanted citizens back into the American political system.

He has brought them back not with slogans, platitudes or worn-out promises, but through open confrontation with the issues. He has brought them back not by appealing to their emotion, but by appealing to their reason.

* * *

For he is a man of reasonableness, a man of balanced views. He is not the left-wing radical that some of his detractors have made him out to be. He is, in fact, quite orthodox in most of his views. His only major departure from the thinking of his opponents in the Democratic Party has been on the issue of the Vietnam war. And it appears that his opponents may be departing from the thinking of a great many Americans on that issue.

When the warends, Senator McCarthy has said, he would begin diverting money to pressing domestic problems. He has proposed a massive job creation program in which both the federal government and private enterprise would play vital roles. By involving business in the War on Poverty through tax incentives, he would initiate a movementtoward "elimination of the present degrading welfare system which encourages dependency on the federal government."

* * *

On the issue of law and order, Senator McCarthy again has displayed his reasonableness, bowing neither to demands from radicals on the left nor to ultimatums from radicals on the right. While condemning violence and lawlessness, he has realistically judged that the solution to social ills lies not in repressive legislation or overbearing law enforcement, but in the elimination of the root causes of crime: poverty, ignorance and hopelessness.

* * *

His sincere, intelligent opposition to the war mark him as a man who would serve the election well as a presidential nominee. His sophistication and his integrity mark him as a man who would serve his party well as a presidential nominee. His ability to communicate with those who are growing disenchanted with American politics mark him as a man who would serve his country well as a presidential nominee.

(Editor's note: This editorial was written by a representative of the Panax Corp. editorial board, which is composed of the editors of the seven Panax newspapers. The board, in making its endorsement decision, considered all candidates for the presidential nomination of the Democratic Party without regard to each man's chances of winning the nomination. The final decision was based on the candidate's qualifications and positions on important issues. The endorsement is for the party nomination, not the November general election.)

THE PROTOTYPE OF A new Metro rail car to serve the Washington, D. C. metropolitan area has been accepted by the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority at the Detroit studios of its designers, Sundberg-Ferar, Inc. The Metro car has a bold and contemporary appearance featuring a polished metal exterior and a bright and inviting interior designed to lure drivers from their automobiles in the congested capital area. When the new transit system is completed, 811 cars like this will carry commuters to and from Washington in air-conditioned comfort at speeds up to 75 m.p.h. The 97-mile, $2.5-billion system is scheduled to begin service in 1972. Shown here with the prototype, are from left: Richard A. Heck, chief designer of the Metro car, Carl W. Sundberg, president of the design firm, and Montgomery Ferar, vice president.

Washington Tries Mass Transportation

Detroit Creates A Rapid Transit Car

The prototype of the first rapid transit cars to serve the Washington (D.C.) metropolitan area has been accepted by the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority at a private preview at the designer's studios in suburban Detroit prior to its unveiling soon in the nation's capital.

The Metro cars, conceived to ease traffic congestion in Washington and its environs, were designed in Detroit, the world's auto capital, by Sundberg-Ferar, Inc., designers of mass transportation vehicles and consumer products.

Metro, as the system is known, will be a 97-mile network of subway, ground level and elevated lines serving Washington and its expanding suburbs in Maryland and Virginia. The first link of the $2.5 billion system is scheduled to begin service in 1972, according to James P. Gleason, W. M. A. T. A. board chairman.

Plan 811 Car Fleet

Metro plans to purchase 811 of the rail cars as designed by Sundberg-Ferar in conjunction with Louis T Klauder & Associates, of Philadelphia, mechanical designers.

The prototype, which is a full-scale duplicate of a Metro car, built with production-type materials, was approved and accepted by Roy T. Dodge, director of the Office of Engineering and Operations for the Washington Area Metropolitan Transit Authority, and Ralph Wood, director of operations.

Carl W. Sundberg, president of Sundberg-Ferar said the front of the Metro car stresses a vertical configuration to provide excellent vision for both operator and passengers. The large side windows are integrated into the design with a distinguishing wide metallic gray paint band dramatizing the speed of the train.

The interior emphasizes comfort, cleanliness, spaciousness and ease of passenger circulation, Sundberg pointed out. "This gives each passenger a sense of space, privacy and restful comfort, surpassing that in his own automobile," he said.

75 MPH

The air-conditioned fleet of Metro cars will accelerate quickly and operate at speeds up to 75 miles an hour. The trains will be automatically controlled with an attendant-operator aboard each train.

Sundberg said the design criteria call for the movement of enormous numbers of passengers (287,000,000 a year by 1990, according to Metro estimates) in rail cars that will give passengers living room comfort and unmatched transportation service.

The Metro car is 75 feet long, 10 feet wide, and 10 feet, 8 inches from track to the top of the car. Each car has an operator's compartment, allowing trains to operate in "married pairs" of cars, back-to-back, and a reverse direction at the end of a line, rather than requiring a loop for the turnaround. Weighing 70,000 pounds empty, each Metro car will accommodate 82 seated passengers plus standees.

The car has six 50-inch-wide double doors. Seats are arranged in pairs and positioned to orient each passenger toward a doorway vestibule to facilitate movement onto and off the train. Seats are constructed on a steel frame thickly padded with foam and encased in smooth, long-wearing vinyl.

No Strap Hangers

Montgomery Ferar, vice president of Sundberg-Ferar, said the seats were designed to provide comfort and adequate leg room and to give each passenger a feeling of "owning" his own space. This was achieved through the sculptured bucket design of the seats, which have no dust-catching corners or crevices.

Strap-hanging, the bane of both the extremely tall and short passenger, will become a thing of the past with the advent of the Metro car. Each aisle seat has a recessed hand-grip to take the place of the overhead hand rail. Standees waiting near the door to get off will have the use of vertical stanchions to steady them.

Floors of the cars will be fully carpeted, with the prototype featuring a thick, wool pile in "desert sunset" colors of gold and brown.

Complementary colors of vinyl are used on the walls, with soft alabaster gray naugahyde on the ceiling. Seats are black, saddle tan and oyster white.

Automatic Operation

Walls are lined with picture windows, 56 inches wide and 36 inches high, giving riders a full view of the scenery on above-ground lines, and of the station platforms. The half-inch-thick windows are made of two panes of tinted, glare-reducing safety glass sealed in neoprene gaskets.

Fluorescent lights in covered and recessed troughs along the ceiling on both sides of the car supply bright, soft light throughout, making reading a pleasure.

Production models will have sophisticated communications equipment, including a tape-recorded voice to announce each station stop. While the trains will operate automatically, each will have an attendant aboard who will be in communication by telephone with the central train dispatcher.

Temperatures in Metro cars will be controlled for maximum comfort at all times. Heated or cooled air will be circulated through each car from louvered vents running the length of the ceiling, and a gentle flow of air will be directed across the top of the car and down the windows to maintain even temperatures.

Changing Trains

Sundberg-Ferar became involved in rapid transit design five years ago with its creation of commuter rail cars for the Port Authority of New York. These were the first new rapid transit designs in 30 years.

More recently, the firm has designed the BART cars for the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, and new commuter cars for use on the Long Island Rail Road operated by the New York Metropolitan Transit Authority.

Sundberg-Ferar has also designed, in cooperation with Louis T. Klauder & Associates, a proposed experimental train intended to operate between Washington and Florida carrying tourists riding in their own automobiles. The auto-on-train project was sponsored by the U. S. Department of Transportation.

Sundberg-Ferar is now creating interiors for the recently announced Lockheed jumbo jet airliner, the L-1011, to be built by the Lockheed California Co.

Cryogenics is the branch of physics which concerns itself with extremely low temperatures.

"Quotes"

Here, to be sure, you are only in New York and not on the moon, but the distance traveled is perhaps a greater one.—Eugene Rostow, United States undersecretary of state for political affairs, greeting the first Soviet commercial airliner to land in America under an agreement that took a decade to work out.

Ann Landers

Quick Hang-Up Best Deal For Pest Call

Dear Ann Landers: My wife has been plagued by obscene phone calls for three weeks. We have notified the police and they say they can't do anything unless we can keep the caller on the line while someone alerts the police or the phone company.

Often the calls are made from public booths so you see how hard it is to catch someone in the act.

My wife is on tranquilizers and losing weight. She asked me to write and ask if you know of an effective method of dealing with these nuts who have nothing better to do than call people and talk rotten.—MR. L. OF BOISE

Dear Mr. L.: The best way to deal with an obscene phone call is to hang up immediately. This deprives the caller of the thing he wants most—an audience. If the caller is phoning from a booth he will not keep throwing dimes into the slot to hear the click of a receiver.

The person who is harassed should never—repeat, never—express fear, disgust or anger. This will delight the caller and encourage him to keep calling. If the caller makes a threat of serious bodily harm the call should be reported to the police. The Bell System is developing some amazing electronic equipment that can automatically set off an alarm in the central office and trace the caller.

I was surprised to learn from Joseph O'Brien of Illinois Bell that many harassing calls are from relatives, neighbors or acquaintances who bear a grudge.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: You missed a good opportunity to educate your readers when the woman told about her friend who had lost 40 pounds and suddenly began to behave like a teenager. She wanted to know if there was any connection.

Many physicians are running into "diet pill psychosis." This type of personality change is associated with addiction to amphetamines. The public should be made aware of the problem. You can help. I hope you will do so.—J. H. B. (M.D. OF SHARON, PA.)

Dear Doctor: Thanks for your letter. My medical consultants agree that diet pill psychosis is a real danger to those who want to lose weight without the help of a physician.

Amphetamines (or pep pills) produce tension, accelerate the responses and promote impulsive behavior. No one should take these pills (or any pills, for that matter) without the approval of his physician.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: In a column which appeared some time ago there was a passing reference to a woman who strapped a bicycle horn around her husband's head at night to keep him from snoring.

Will you please repeat the details because my old goat has been keeping me up with his infernal snoring for the past three years and I am willing to try anything.

Don't suggest separate bedrooms because I put him in another bedroom two years ago and he snores so loud I can hear him anyway. Please tell me the price of the horn and where I can purchase one.—NEED A NIGHT'S SLEEP

Dear Need: I do not recommend the solution. Bicycle horns are for bicycles.

If your husband's snoring is as bad as you say, I suggest he go to a doctor. Minor surgery might solve the problem.

Here is another automatic play for any of the 10 best players in the world. It is easy enough to see that the hand is a cinch with four hearts in the West hand but there is a way to ensure the slam contract against all possible heart distributions.

Opening lead—♣K

Obviously, there can be no problem if hearts break 3-2, declarer's only problem is to make it against a 4-1 break in that suit.

The play is to win the club lead and draw trumps. Then South runs off three diamonds in order to discard his losing club and ruffs dummy's last club.

Now he leads the three of hearts toward dummy. He plans to play the ten if West plays low. This works against any combination of cards.

Suppose West held a singleton honor. The trick would be won by the king and a low heart led from dummy. The moment East followed low, declarer would play the eight spot and claim his slam.

Suppose West held a singleton small heart. The 10 would lose to an honor and East would be on lead. If he returned the seven, declarer would simply play his eight. If he returned the nine or his remaining honor, declarer would let it ride around to dummy's king and be left with a proven finesse.

Finally, if East should take the 10 with a singleton honor, East would be forced to lead a diamond or a club. This would give declarer a chance to ruff in one hand and discard a losing heart from the other one.

LOCKI LYNN, 4, gets introduced to what kindergarten set will wear this fall on a shopping trip with her mother, Mrs. Lanny Johnston, 309 S. 13th St., Escanaba. (Daily Press Photo)

Vacation Going, Going Gone; Time To Shop!

Back in June, your children's school vacation seemed endless. But here it is many weeks later, and once again the daily newspapers bulge with back-to-school advertising.

Department stores and specialty shops are obviously ready. Are you?

Have you kept your promise that this year, by golly, there wouldn't be any procrastination in preparing your children for the return to the classroom? Do you have a well thought-out shopping list for your youngsters' back - to - school wardrobe? Have you taken an inventory of "school-worthy" clothes? Have you and your children agreed on a date to do all the things that need doing before another school year starts?

Once you've decided on a day, make it something special by planning it carefully. It'll save time, money and nerves. Here are a few suggestions to make it a happy event:

Start the entire family out with a special breakfast treat —this will give everyone a chance to tell Dad about the big day ahead.

First stop is the family dentist's office for the back-to-schoolers' semi-annual check-ups. If you live in an area where the water supply is fluoridated or your dentist has been prescribing vitamin - fluoride supplements for your children, chances are that little work—perhaps none—needs to be done on their teeth.

The value of fluorides in dental health has been known for more than 25 years, and recent studies indicate that vitamin-fluoride supplements can be as effective as fluoridated water in preventing cavities, and of course, dental bills. This is a most important consideration for those two-thirds of American families who don't have the benefit of fluoridated water. Scientists at Indiana University found that tooth decay was reduced up to 68 per cent in children who were given daily doses of a vitamin-fluoride combination.

Fluoride given in vitamins can begin its work long before the first teeth start emerging. Most families find vitamin-fluoride supplements fit easily into their already established daily vitamin habit.

With the visit to the dentist happily out of the way, schedule the shopping trip next. In mid-morning, the stores aren't crowded and the sales clerks can devote sufficient time to helping you find exactly what your children need.

Third on the calendar of events, plan a leisurely lunch in an attractive restaurant. If reservations are advisable make them the day before.

Then, as a highlight of your get-ready-for-school shopping expedition, enjoy a movie together.

Healthy Hair Gets Notice

The leisurely days of summer vacation are rapidly drawing to a close and the busy ones of school are about to begin. Perhaps your last remaining days are taken up with replenishing your wardrobe, but let's not stop there. Take a close look at the condition of your hair. Your outfit may be perfectly coordinated but if your hair doesn't look well the dress is unimportant.

Summer sun, wind, and salt water can make your hair dull and lifeless. Here are a few hints to restore summer damaged hair to its natural beauty. Wash hair twice a week with a good dry hair shampoo to replace lost oils. Follow this up with a conditioning treatment to add softness and managability. A firm brushing every day with the proper brush will help bring out the highlights. Who said 100 strokes a day are old fashioned?

Ice, an oxide of hydrogen, serves an important rock-forming function in graciers and icecaps.

Fall Fashions Should Suit The Personality

There's a fashion course you'll want to follow this fall that's a totally independent study. The subject is you and the object is to arrive at the real fashion "you" or "you's."

The problem is one of self-expression through choice of clothing, accessories and make-up. Fall's many fashion moods are adding up to a multiple message that touches on many themes: Victoriana, The Thirties, The Return of Elegance, Costumery and Contemporary. However, it is the individualist rather than the generalist, the style-setter not the style follower, who is the girl expected to be most likely to keep her fashion grades high.

The method is a purely experimental one measured in nods of approval and low whistles. It is based on dressing as you like it, when you like it. For instance, you may opt for a maxi coat to hide a mini dress to ward off football game chills. Or you may go for a lacey, ruffled blouse tucked into your dirndl skirt when you want everyone to know you've just discovered the Romantic poets.

You may choose to combine your fashion points of view. For class, you may favor classic campus attire — skirt, sweater, string of pearls. For fall dances, you may lean to the cool, Faye Dunaway contemporary look—a sheer balloon sleeved blouse and belted, black velvet skirt.

No matter how many fashion equations work out for you, you'll want your lipstick colors to add up to a natural, soft look.

INSTANT HAIR FASHION

The curly look is now an instant hair fashion, thanks to curlytop wigs and hairpieces. The most revolutionary is the synthetic wig in a new denier that duplicates the look and feel of hair. These curly wigs will hold up in fog and wet weather, and can be crushed in a suitcase or washed like a piece of lingerie, hung up to dry and worn again without the need of a resetting.
